Syrian-Red Arms Deal Hit

Ike Acts To Heal West Split

Friendly Letter Sent To Mollet By Eisenhower

PARIS, Nov. 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower has sent French Premier Guy Mollet a personal letter reaffirming faith in French-American friendship and the Atlantic Alliance.

Diplomatic sources reported this today as U.S. Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon prepared to fly home tomorrow for conferences on the differences between France and Britain on one hand and the United States on the other.

French and American sources described the President's message as "warm and cordial" but declined to go into details. Dillon delivered it late last week. The first hint of the message came from French sources who apparently wanted to de-emphasize the differences.

Single Incident

A White House statement yesterday stressed that differences over Suez were only a single incident and denied that they had disrupted bonds of friendship with Britain and France.

Foreign Minister Christian Pineau has told Parliament that "despite our bitterness" France can not renounce the Atlantic Alliance or American friendship. He described these as safeguards against "a fate similar to Hungary's."

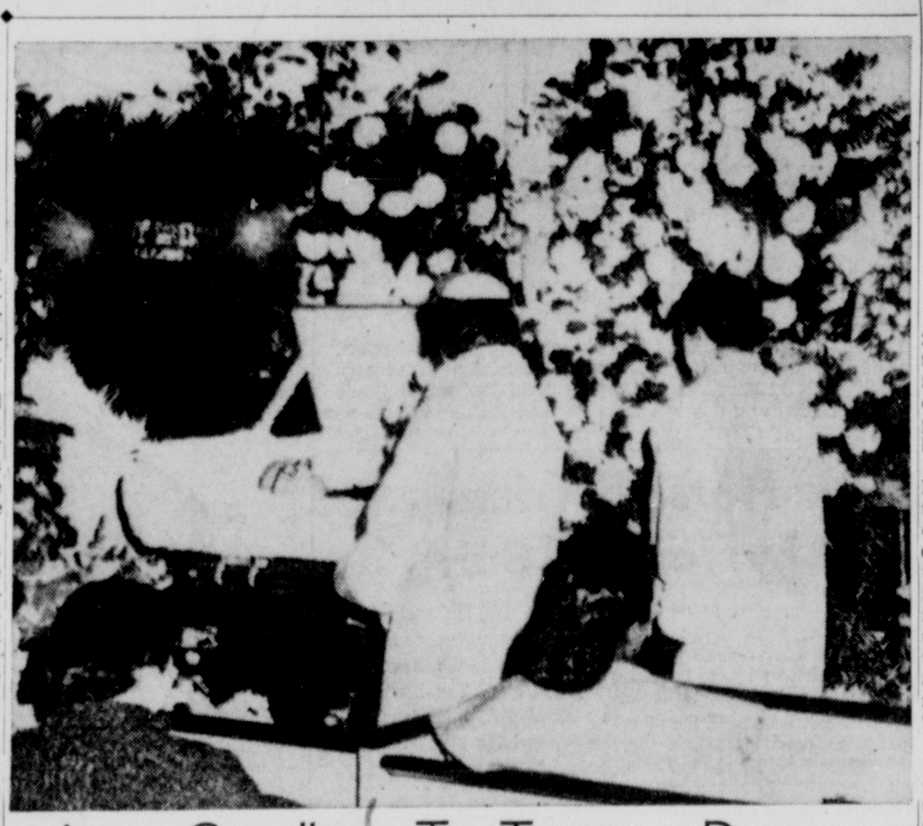
French newspapers are printing many columns on relations with Washington, but tend to emphasize the United States split with Britain, rather than with France. Several gave prominence to an unconfirmed story in the London Daily Sketch that American diplomats had been putting out the line that "Eden must go" as British prime minister.

Eisenhower Lampooned

Anti-American feeling in Britain has soared, with cartoonists lampooning the President without mercy.

About 100 Conservatives, nearly a third of the party's membership in the House of Commons, are backing a motion blaming American policies for "gravely endangering the Atlantic Alliance."

This will chafe the Eden government if it attempts to withdraw British forces from Port Said before winning any concessions for settlement of Suez and Palestine issues.



Last Goodbye To Tommy Dorsey

Ike Urges Use Of Salk Vaccine, Now Plentiful

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower tonight urged swift and widest possible use of Salk polio vaccine after being notified that about 17 million doses "which would prevent paralysis or even death" are now lying unused.

The report on the big stockpile of the vaccine—once an extremely scarce serum—was sent to the President at his vacation headquarters by Marion Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Public Apathy Cited

Folsom told Eisenhower that at present "the means are largely at hand" to prevent the dread crippling disease—"to avert the suffering and disability it inflicts most often upon children, and the anguish caused to their parents." He added:

"Today vaccine supplies are plentiful. The danger is simply that because of public apathy, vaccine which would prevent paralysis or even death—next year—may lie unused.

"The Public Health Service reports that about 17 million doses of vaccine are now lying unused in the hands of manufacturers. Additional vaccine is stockpiled in drug stores and physicians' offices."

Report "Deserves Attention"

In a statement, the President said the report "deserves the attention of every young adult—of every parent—in America," and added:

"I join with Secretary Folsom, the surgeon general of the Public Health Service, and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in urging that the vaccine be used promptly—before the next poliomyelitis season arrives."

George Believes Big 3 Will Meet Early Next Year

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (INS)—Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Walter F. George said today President Eisenhower may hold a "summit" meeting with British and French leaders in January or February.

The Georgia Democrat, who is Mr. Eisenhower's personal representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, said he does not think the Big Three would get together before the end of this year.

George said in an exclusive interview with INS-Telenews, he does not believe there would be a U. S.-British-French conference before the United Nations forces have fully taken over in Egypt.

Refugee Quota Boost Studied

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is considering an increase in the number of Hungarian refugees to be admitted to the United States. Officials said today the total for permanent residence may be raised from the present 5,000 to 8,000.

There is a prospect too that President Eisenhower may name a White House coordinator to seek more efficiency in the efforts of the half-dozen government agencies involved in this work.

President Eisenhower set the emergency quota of 5,000 Hungarian refugees on Nov. 8. Officials said that studies since that time indicate that under the law about 8,000 could be brought here for permanent residence.

In addition, consideration is being given to a plan to waive many of the legal requirements in order to admit temporarily additional thousands who are now in Austria. Their permanent status would be determined sometime after their arrival in this country.

Officials said that this would require legal action by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell and undoubtedly full consultation with congressional leaders to gain their approval also would be necessary.

Austria Seeks Red Cross-Run Refugee Camps

VIENNA, Nov. 28 (AP) — Austria wants the Red Cross to take over its major refugee camps. The homeless, fleeing Hungarian communism, neared the 100,000 mark today.

A representative of the U.N. high commissioner for refugees said he was leaving for his Geneva headquarters with the Austrian appeal. The Austrians, he added, asked High Commissioner James Read to get the League of Red Cross Societies to make a bigger effort.

The league groups the world's major Red Cross organizations. It is already committed to caring for 20,000 refugees.

How Plan Would Operate

Under the new plan, the Red Cross would operate all camps of more than 500 persons. This would enable the Red Cross to send in national teams to relieve hard-pressed Austrian personnel. It would also provide a source of funds.

"People are always more eager to contribute to a private agency than to a government," one refugee official explained.

Even at $1 a day per head—the minimum cost for maintaining the camps—the refugees would eat a big slice out of Austria's modest budget.

Plenty Of Promises

There was no lack of money aid promises. The U.S. Red Cross is giving five million dollars, the West German government is to give about 2½ million dollars. The list is much longer.

Many officials in Austria—Austrians and foreigners alike—want to see the United Nations add to its power by taking over actual charge of the refugees.

Phone Workers Promised Offer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Telephone workers threatening to strike in 40 states at midnight were promised an "expanded wage offer" late today.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. announced plans for a new offer—to be made before the strike deadline—to the Communications Workers of America at the end of an afternoon bargaining session.

A company spokesman declined to say how much the new offer would improve on the previous offer from A. T. and T., which was understood to have included increases ranging from $2 to $4.50 a week in the New York area.

Involved are at least 25,000 long distance operators, plant workers and clerks. Present pay for the operators now ranges from $40 to $67.50, and for plant workers from $41 to $114 a week.

The contract expires at midnight and union officials have said there "could be a walkout" at that time.

A strike vote is being counted but results are not expected to be known until tomorrow. Union officials said the tally is running strongly in favor of a strike.

1,500 Houses Burn

Tractor And Toothbrush Dropped To Polar Party

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica Nov. 28 (AP)—An eight-ton tractor and a toothbrush floated gently down to the South Pole today.

They were dropped to 19 Americans building a U.S. scientific outpost for use in the International Geophysical Year program.

The tractor, dropped on three 100-foot parachutes from 2,000 feet, will be used to speed construction.

The toothbrush, wrapped in a towel and tied to a bundle of oil drums, will be used by Sgt. Richard J. Patton, 31-year-old St. Louisan who made history's first parachute jump to the Pole Sunday. He had radioed that he forgot to pack a toothbrush.

The tractor made a perfect landing and was observed in operation shortly after touching down.

Lt. Richard A. Bowers of Quonset, R.I., and Harrisburg, Pa., leader of the Seabee ground party, messaged that all was well. He said his group was spending its first night at the pole in a heated building. The workers set up a portable wood frame building covered with insulated fabric. It is heated by an oil stove. The task force had been using tiny survival tents.

The Air Force Globemaster which made the tractor drop plowed into a snowbank when landing and blocked the 6,000-foot ice strip at this base for a time. None of the 17 men aboard the plane, the State of Tennessee, was hurt. The plane was piloted by Col. H. A. Crosswell of Atlanta and Miami. The plane's nose wheel collapsed when it set down, causing it to skid into the snowbank.

France Pulls More Troops From Egypt

Dag Sees 4,100-Man U.N. Police Patrol Within Two Weeks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 28 (AP) — France announced today the withdrawal of more troops from Egypt and promised to pull out additional units soon. The U.N. police patrol, meanwhile, slowly built up strength to fill the gap.

"I am authorized to announce," French Delegate Vincent Broustra told the U.N. Assembly, "that after the arrival of the Norwegian company of the international force, the French command withdrew from Port Said one company of infantry and one naval commando unit, and that it is prepared to withdraw a new echelon after the arrival of the Yugoslav detachment."

Third Of Men Withdrawn

Earlier the French had made an initial statement that they had withdrawn about one-third of the total number of troops they sent to the combat area for the combined invasion of Egypt with Britain.

The Norwegian unit referred to by Broustra arrived in Port Said a week ago. The main force of the Yugoslav battalion is slated to land later this week in Port Said.

In other developments in the Middle East crisis, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced he expected to have 4,100 U.N. troops in Egypt within two weeks and Egypt's Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi once more demanded the invaders pay at least the material damage they inflicted. Fawzi demanded the invaders leave Egypt forthwith.

British Plans Awaited

Britain and France were reported in London to be resigned to beginning a large-scale withdrawal in a few days. British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, who arrived home today from the U.N. Assembly, may disclose the British intentions when he addresses the House of Commons.

A qualified informant said Britain plans to leave a group of her navy units and perhaps some civilian salvage experts in Port Said. These will be at the disposal of the U. N. force.

Shepilov Sees New War Peril

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Nov. 28 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov today accused the "imperialist states" of planning "new actions" against the Arab countries and thus "threatening the world peace."

Shepilov flew in here from New York en route home from the U.N. General Assembly and was met at the airport by Danish and Russian officials.

Present also were representatives of the diplomatic missions of Hungary, Romania, Czechoslovakia and Red China. The Yugoslav legation was not represented.

In a statement, the foreign minister declared: "Britain, France and Israel have new plans of aggression against the Arab countries in order to force Egypt to submission. We also know that big troop concentrations are taking place near Jordan and Syria and that political infiltration is taking place in Lebanon."

No Mystery In Death Of Dorsey, Police Say

GREENWICH, Conn., Nov. 28 (AP)—Police said today there was no mystery connected with the death of bandleader Tommy Dorsey Monday. A medical examiner said Dorsey choked to death accidentially.

Greenwich Police Chief David W. Robbins and Firfield County Coroner Edgar Krentzman said confusion about notes left in the palatial home here where Dorsey was found dead Monday afternoon should not be allowed to lend an aura of mystery to the case.

Yesterday Chief Robbins said that Dorsey's personal manager, Tino Barzie, had made up a story he gave reporters about an affectionate note left by Dorsey to his wife.

The chief said Dorsey had left a note to his wife, but it bore no resemblance to a description given reporters by Barzie. Robbins refused to make the contents of the note public.

Faith Healer Still Critical From Polio

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Faith healer Jack Coe was still in critical condition today from polio.

The evangelist, who has a $150,000 damage suit pending against him for allegedly ordering a 3-year-old Florida polio victim's leg braces removed, required a tracheotomy, or throat incision, in order to feed him oxygen.

He was admitted to Parkland Hospital Sunday after 19 hours in another Dallas hospital where his case was diagnosed as bulbar polio.

Coe, 38, operates a revival center here and the Herald of Healing center at nearby Waxahachie, Tex.

Grenade Incident

PORT SAID, Nov. 28 (AP)—An Egyptian tossed a grenade within earshot of the British - French forces commander, Gen. Sir Charles Keightley, and Danish U.N. troops arriving at a railway station tonight.

The grenade was thrown at a six-man British patrol clearing the streets at 6 p.m. curfew hour. No one was injured.

Hungarian Premier Asks Austria Return Refugees Under 18

WAITING — Anna Maria Alberghetti, the singing actress from Italy, waits by the phone at her Hollywood home, a little bit angry but hoping her Italian count will call back. The count, Alberto Mochi, is supposed to come to Hollywood at Christmas time to ask for her hand in marriage. He woke up the Alberghetti family with a phone call from Rome at 2 a. m. yesterday and worse, told the actress she'll have to give up her career if she marries him (AP Photofax)

Malenkov's Hand Seen In New Line

BUDAPEST, Nov. 28 (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar, reported stiffened by a strong Kremlin hand, tonight demanded Austrian help in returning Hungarian youths who have streamed into Austria with other refugees. He charged "Fascist terrorists" prompted their flight.

Kadar was following a new tough line toward both Hungarian workers and the West—a line which usually reliable sources said was suggested to him directly by a Soviet deputy premier, Georgi Malenkov.

An excellent source, who asked not to be quoted by name, said Malenkov arrived in Budapest last Friday to bolster the Kadar regime. Malenkov knows the ropes. He was premier of the Soviet Union for almost two years after Stalin's death, then resigned with a confession of errors and was succeeded by Nikolai Bulganin.

"Slave Labor" Charged

Radio Budapest reported Kadar's government asked through the Austrian legation in Budapest for the "earliest possible return" of several thousand Hungarians under 18 described as either lured or forced out of Hungary.

The government-controlled station also charged that Western countries are employing the thousands of refugees as "slave labor." This apparently was intended to offset reports in the United Nations about Soviet deportation of young Hungarian freedom fighters.

Although jabbing at neutral Austria, Kadar had a soft spot for another neighbor, President Tito's Yugoslavia. He sent a message of congratulations to Tito on the occasion of Yugoslavia's national holiday tomorrow, the 11th anniversary of the Yugoslav Republic.

Tito Friendship Bid

Kadar told Tito that friendship between Hungary and Yugoslavia "is of great importance for the Socialistic evolution of both countries and contributes to securing the peace."

Tito originally had favored Kadar's assumption of power in Hungary with the aid of Russian guns on Nov. 4, declaring it was necessary to save Hungarian socialism.

But subsequently, Yugoslavia protested sharply to Budapest over what it called the abduction by the Russians of the former Premier Imre Nagy when he left his asylum in the Yugoslav Embassy.

Israel Charges Egypt Follows Nazi Practices

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, Nov. 28 (AP)—Premier David Ben-Gurion charged today Egypt has imposed a reign of terror in the Hitlerite pattern on all its Jews who wish to hold fast to their faith. He appealed to the world to "stop Nasser now."

"We must warn the world not only of what is being done now, but of what is liable to happen in Egypt if effective measures are not taken immediately to put an end to these acts," he said.

Ben-Gurion told Parliament that swastikas were discovered on various Egyptian vehicles and Arabic translations of "Mein Kampf" in the baggage of many Egyptian officers captured in the Sinai campaign.

He declared this implies "appalling possibilities for the future of Egyptian Jewry."

For the present, he said, Egyptian authorities are expelling stateless Jews and depriving many others of Egyptian citizenship with methods that clearly recall Nazi practices.

Further, he said, Egypt has refused to permit the Netherlands to become the protector of captured Israeli troops under the Geneva prisoner of war convention, "with the excuse that Egypt does not recognize the State of Israel."

"We believe that the U. N. Assembly will bear responsibility for the fate of these prisoners," Ben-Gurion declared, "if it does not see to it that the Egyptian dictator should comply with international law and the Geneva convention."

A government-sponsored resolution, adopted 67-3 with only three Communist deputies dissenting, expressed "profound shock at atrocities perpetrated against the Jews of Egypt by the Egyptian military junta and that country's military dictator, who is trampling into the dust the rights of men."

Major Algerian Battle Continues

ALGIERS, Nov. 28 (AP)—French Foreign Legionnaires and paratroops, supported by artillery and planes, tonight were fighting one of the biggest battles of the two-year-old Algerian nationalist rebellion near the Tunisian frontier.

All night long the French guns could be heard in Tebessa, a town of 24,000 which controls several roads and mountain tracks leading into the frontier region. French planes could be seen dropping flares over the mountains.

According to French reports, the battle began yesterday when a force of about 300 nationalists was sighted moving from the Tunisian frontier area toward Tebessa.

Taylor's Order Frowning On Yule Cards Under Fire

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The greeting card people, who like to spread good cheer around, just about wrote Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor off their list today.

Gen. Taylor, the Army chief of staff, has annoyed them considerably.

He signed a regulation saying that "the exchange of cards will be discouraged" this Christmas, and next Christmas, too, among civilians and military personnel working in Army offices in and around Washington. There are about 19,000 of them.

The regulation said that since these people see each other almost every day, it is "unnecessary" to swap cards Otherwise, there was no elaboration as to why Taylor decided to issue the ruling. An unofficial explanation was that the flood of cards overcrowded mailing facilities at the Pentagon and elsewhere.

Army officials said they thought the regulation would be picked up by field and area commanders for use in places outside Washington, too.

The reaction from the greeting card sellers was prompt and strong.

"It will take a bigger man than Gen. Taylor to take Christmas out of Christmas," exclaimed Edward Aloysius Murphy of Cheerio Greetings, Washington wholesaler.

A source close to the White House—that is, a greeting card retailer in the next block on Pennsylvania Ave.—also raised objections.

This source, H. I. Rothrock, said it seemed to him that Taylor was "really interfering in private lives."

Russia Adds To Tension, U.S. Charges

Activity Contrasts Sharply With Peace Efforts, White Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The United States accused Russia today of adding to Middle East tension by shipping "substantial" amounts of arms to Syria.

Concern over these weapons deliveries also has been expressed to the Syrian government by the American ambassador in Damascus, the State Department reported.

The Syrian government, however, is now believed to be under the control of a group of pro-Soviet army officers. Reports from Lebanon, Syria's neighbor to the west, spoke of the likelihood of an open coup by the Syrian army clique to consolidate its position.

Officials here said more than 30 million dollars worth of Soviet weapons, including light tanks, artillery, mortars, machine guns, armored cars and munitions, have been delivered to the Syrian armed forces over the last year. British sources at the United Nations furnished bigger figures. They said the Soviet bloc had shipped about 60 million dollars worth of arms to Syria and about 400 million dollars worth to Egypt up to Nov. 10.

Shipments "Since Crisis"

Lincoln White, State Department press officer here, said Russia has made additional shipments to Syria "since the Middle East crisis."

In Damascus, Prime Minister Sabri Assali denied his government had received any Red arms recently.

White said the Russian activity contrasts sharply with U.N. efforts to "diminish tensions and work for a settlement" of the issues stirring the Arab world.

White asserted the Soviet policy "is adding to tensions in the area."

White's comment contrasted with remarks by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who reported at a news conference about the same time that he believed international tension over the Middle East "has been greatly eased over the last two or three weeks."

Hagerty Disagrees

Talking to reporters at Augusta, Ga., where President Eisenhower is vacationing, Hagerty disagreed with a reporter who expressed the view that the Middle East outlook had not improved. Hagerty cited the cease-fire gained by the U.N. in Egypt as well as the movement of U.N. police forces into the area as encouraging signs.

White told a news conference at the State Department Ambassador James Moose Jr. has discussed the Soviet arms problem with Syrian authorities during the past few days.

Bunker Named Envoy To India

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 28 (AP) — President Eisenhower today picked Democrat Ellsworth Bunker, envoy to Italy and Argentina during the Truman administration, to be ambassador to India.

The President also chose Dr. Lawrence Gridley Derthick, now superintendent of schools at Chattanooga, Tenn., to be U.S. commissioner of education.

Still another appointment announced at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here was his selection of Jack Z. Anderson, former Republican member of Congress and now an assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, to serve as a White House liaison man with Congress.

The President filled the three posts while continuing a routine of work mixed with golf. He arrived Monday for a stay of possibly two weeks.

Before golfing today at the Augusta National course Eisenhower turned up at his small office above the professional shop at 8:30 a.m. There he handled government business and got the usual daily report on the international situation from a national security aide, Col. Andrew Goodpaster.

Both Bunker and Derthick got recess appointments to their new assignments. Their formal nominations to be submitted to Congress when it reconvenes in January will be subject to Senate confirmation.

Selection of Anderson, who served as a member of the House from California from 1939 through 1952, does not require Senate approval.

Ike Advised To Seek $4 Billion Aid Fund

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Officials operating the foreign aid program want President Eisenhower to ask Congress for slightly more than four billion dollars to continue the program next year. They are now seeking White House approval for their aid blueprint.

The State and Defense departments and the International Cooperation Administration, the agencies responsible for the program, have agreed on such an over-all figure and have submitted it to the Budget Bureau, officials said.

As an arm of the White House, the Budget Bureau will reappraise the program before Eisenhower is called on to give final approval. The size of the program may be officially disclosed in Eisenhower's budget message in January.

The new program will be for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

If Congress authorizes spending of just over four billion dollars in military and economic assistance, this will boost to more than 50 billions the amount the United States has provided to more than 40 nations under various aid programs since the Marshall Plan was set up in 1948.

The figure tentatively set for next year's program is about 900 million dollars less than the Eisenhower administration sought from Congress at its last session. Congress, however, cut about a billion dollars from this year's request, voting $3,766,000,000.

Spending for both economic and military aid would be maintained at present levels under the program now planned, officials said. Currently the United States spends about $4,200,000,000 a year for foreign aid, including $2,700,000,000 for military help.

Informants said the one big question still to be settled is what to do about aid to Middle Eastern nations. Economic aid has been suspended for Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria.

A decision on funds for that area is being postponed in hopes the situation there will jell in coming weeks.

Hundreds View Dorsey's Body; Funeral Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Slowly, they filed by. Slowly, like the slow beat of a sad song, they passed beside the open casket. They were saying goodbye to an old friend who made music, Tommy Dorsey.

It was a quiet, somber line of people, moving along, moving slowly and steadily, the famous, the ordinary, the jive artists and bandsmen who knew Tommy back when, the just plain people who liked to hear him play.

They began gathering outside the doors of the Frank E. Campbell Funeral church in Upper Manhattan before the doors opened at 1 p.m. From then on, they kept coming, more than 100 in the first hour.

Tommy lay there in a silver-finished copper casket. Beside him flowed the slow rhythm of the mourners.

It was like a heavy largo, like a phonograph record turning too slowly. There he lay, this man who had kept the licks neat, the melody sweet, the feet dancing.

People remembered. A whole generation and more, remembered. Tommy, with his tender trombone, his lively baton up there on the bandstand, or TV screen, his tunes on the airwaves—for 35 years.

So they came, looked, and went away. Tommy was dead. The "Sentimental Gentleman of Swing" was gone.

He lay there, in gray suit and gray tie, his eyes closed behind his always-worn spectacles. There were about 35 floral pieces.

One was a heart-shaped spray of red roses sent by his wife. It bore this inscription, "Dearest Tommy, All My Love, Janie." She had been suing him for divorce when he died.

Dorsey's body was to remain at the funeral church until shortly before his funeral at 11 a.m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Kensico Cemetery, Westchester County.

Two Persons Hurt In Baltimore Blaze

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28 (AP)—Two persons were hurt today in a fire which raged out of control for an hour in a South Baltimore lumber yard and woodworking plant.

The fire started in a 280-foot-long storage shed at the C. O. Wurzberger & Sons plant near the Westport section of the city.

Injured in the blaze were two spectators, 9-year-old Patricia Duncan, who suffered first-degree burns, and her mother, Mrs. Anna Duncan, who was overcome by smoke. Both were treated at Franklin Square Hospital.

Dues Protest 'Illegal,' USW Head Declares

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28 (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, today called "illegal" a rank-and-file protest over a recent $2-a-month dues increase and threatened possible union disciplinary action against leaders of the movement.

Talking his first public notice of the protests, McDonald made it plain that the dues increase will not be rescinded.

The union president said the movement is illegal under the USW constitution and termed it a step toward "dual unionism."

A group of USW members, banded together into the International Dues Protest Committee, started a movement more than two months ago to have a special convention called to rescind the dues increase.

The group is headed by Don Rarick, a member of Local 2227 at U.S. Steel Corp.'s nearby Irvin works.

As an offshoot of the protest, the committee has slated candidates—headed by Rarick for the presidency—to oppose the union's three top international officers in next February's referendum.

Forty USW locals must approve a candidate before his name appears on the ballot, and the opposition slate presently does not have the required support.

Margaret Sullavan In Mass. Rest Home

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)-Actress Margaret Sullavan, who suddenly disappeared on the eve of a television show seven weeks ago, is at a rest home in Stockbridge, Mass.

Miriam Howell, Miss Sullavan's agent, said today "she is perfectly all right and will leave in a couple of weeks or so."

Miss Howell confirmed the husky-voiced star's whereabouts after the New York Journal-American reported her at Stockbridge in the Austen Riggs Center.

Miss Sullavan has been at her own home in Greenwich, Conn., during weekends. Her husband, Kenneth Wagg, has spent much of the time with her since she vanished.

No Open Bottles In Cars

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—The Chicago City Council today adopted an ordinance prohibiting the drinking from or carrying of open liquor bottles in cars. The measure provides a penalty of a $50 to $200 fine, six months' imprisonment, or both for violators.

District Planner Would Make D. C. Part Of Maryland

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP) — A city planner proposed today that the District of Columbia be made a part of Maryland.

Carl Feiss, president of the District chapter of the American Institute of Planners, proposed also that an area-wide federation be established to solve Washington's metropolitan development problems.

Feiss spoke at a meeting on Washington planning and zoning, sponsored by the District League of Women Voters.

His main argument was that federal control of Washington prevents the national capital from dealing with Maryland and Virginia in the type of regional organizations toward which other metropolitan areas are turning.

Feiss said he recognized the federal interest in the capital, but said it should not be paramount. The federal government, he added, has shown "little real responsibility for the area it occupies."

10 Negroes Stay Out Of School

CLINTON, Tenn., Nov. 28 (AP)—Ten Negro students at Clinton High School, scene of rock and egg throwing incidents Monday and yesterday, remained away from classes today.

Jo Ann Allen, 16, a junior and one of the group, said:

"We just decided to stay away from school today. We may go back tomorrow."

Miss Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Allen, said there was no concerted action on the part of the Negroes not to return to classes.

"Everybody just made up his or her own mind," she declared.

Principal D. J. Brittain Jr. said he had received instructions not to give out any further information on any events relating to integration of the school. He declined to say who gave him the instructions.

Frank Irwin, superintendent of Anderson County schools, also declined to say whether he had issued the instructions. But he added:

"In the light of all the trouble we've had, everybody feels like it is best that we say nothing further at this time."

Frank Sinatra Signs Contract With ABC

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Crooner-actor Frank Sinatra today signed a three-year exclusive contract with the American Broadcasting Co.

The network said the pact, covering all his activities except movie-making, is "one of the biggest and most unusual" agreements in show business history. The price tag was not divulged.

It was indicated that emphasis is to be on Sinatra's acting talents in a weekly half-hour program over the ABC television network, plus two hour-long special Shows annually. The series is to start next fall.

"Satchmo" To Play At London Benefit

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP) — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong is making a quick trip to England to play with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra at a benefit sponsored by the lord mayor of London for Hungarian relief. It will be in Royal Festival Hall Dec. 18.

The trumpet maestro canceled an engagement at the Fontainbleu Hotel in Miami Beach to donate his services here.

Negro Barred Due To School Overcrowding

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28 (AP)—Jill Elaine Brown was refused admission to an all-white school not because she was a Negro but because the school was overcrowded, the State Board of Education was told today.

"We have permitted Negro children to enroll in white schools closer to their home where there was no overcrowding," Dr. David S. Jenkins, Anne Arundel County school superintendent, said.

However, he acknowledged that the six-year-old youngster would have been admitted to the school had she been white.

The county's policy of integration is going "through a period of evolution," he said. "The transition is of necessity one that will take some time."

"This thing must be brought about according to good administrative practices," said Dr. Jenkins. "I think the (integration) issue involves good intention and not capricious action."

He appeared before the board during the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert C. Brown of Ferndale from the refusal of the Anne Arundel school board to admit their child to Ferndale Elementary School.

Show Horse Befriends Shabby, Injured Burro

MIAMI, Fla. Nov. 28 (AP) — A prize-winning show horse stood guard today over a shabby burro after other horses kicked the sickly little animal almost to death.

"She won't let any of the other horses go near him since they kicked him," said Delores Robinson, 18-year-old owner of Blaze, winner of several ribbons and trophies.

"She even saves her food for the burro and will hardly eat anything unless he eats with her. They look real tragic because the burro is such a sickly little thing and Blaze is so sleek."

The burro was recently weakened by a cold and couldn't keep out of the way of other horses at the West 40 Horse Farm, Miss Robinson said. The horses have a natural dislike for burros, she added, and the sickly burro was kicked severely.

Somebody moved him into another pasture with Blaze. Blaze came up and started nuzzling him.

"None of us had ever seen anything like it. Blaze can't stand any of the other burros and she doesn't even like the other horses," Miss Robinson said.

A veterinarian is treating the burro for the cold and the medicine made him lose a lot of his hair, giving him an even shabbier look.

"If he doesn't get better pretty soon, they might have to put him away," Delores said. "I just don't know what Blaze would do if the burro dies now."

Chou Flies To India, Confers With Nehru

NEW DELHI, Nov. 28 (AP)—Chou En-lai, Red China's premier and foreign minister, was warmly welcomed today on his 12-day goodwill visit and review of world tensions with Prime Minister Nehru.

Within two hours after being cheered in by 10,000 Indians at the airport, Chou and Nehru had a preliminary meeting. Serious discussions begin later.

In these talks, the Chinese leader may advance new ideas for breaking deadlocked negotiations between the United States and Red China. These suggestions could then be presented by Nehru to President Eisenhower when they meet in Washington Dec. 16.

Authoritative sources said Chou will make a second visit to India at the end of December. Washington's reactions to any proposals Chou may make could be relayed to the Chinese leader in a resumption of talks with Nehru.

Offered Murder "Clues"

Anonymous Letter Writer Held On Federal Charges

SALISBURY, Nov. 28 (AP) — A man accused of writing anonymous letters offering clues to an unsolved murder has been charged with using the mails to defraud.

The defendant is James George Ward, 42, of Delmar. Ward was arrested at an abandoned church in rural Worcester County.

He has been charged with sending two letters which falsely offered to furnish information on the fatal knifing of Charles W. Jones, 33, of Pocomoke City.

Jones was found dying outside a Pocomoke City night club last April 22.

The federal mail charges were placed against Ward after he had been released by Worcester County State's Attorney Daniel J. Prettyman. Prettyman said an investigation led to the belief that Ward had no connection with the murder.

U.S. Commissioner Lewis C. Merryman said that Ward admitted writing two letters to Herbert Pilchard of Pocomoke City. Both Ward and Jones were formerly employed by Pilchard.

Police arrested Ward outside an abandoned church near Stockton. Authorities said Ward's letters suggested that money be left at the church in exchange for information about the murder.

Ward was released on $1,000 bond for appearance in U.S. District Court, Baltimore. If convicted, he faces a maximum fine of $1,000 and up to five years in prison.

The Liberty Bell in Philadelphia cracked in 1835 while tolling for the funeral of John Marshall, chief justice of the Supreme Court.

The first World War II peace treaty was signed by Britain and Siam on January 1, 1946.

Sanitary Commission Considers Proposal

ROCKVILLE, Md., Nov. 28 (AP) — A cash payment plan for water and sewer line installations is being considered for the Washington Suburban Sanitary District.

Legislation to make the change from the present system of long range financing through front-foot benefit assessments is being studied by T. Howard Duckett, special counsel for the sanitary commission.

The commission's full legislative program is expected to be announced by Dec. 6 when the joint Montgomery-Prince Georges delegation to the General Assembly meets with the commission.

New Play Closes Without Notice

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28 (AP) — "Build With One Hand," the new Joseph Kramm play which opened Monday at Ford's Theater here, was suddenly closed without earlier notice before today's matinee.

There was no immediate explanation o' the action.

William R. Trippe, executive vice president of the company operating Ford's, said refunds would be given on all tickets.

The play, starring Elliott Nugent and Geraldine Fitzgerald, came to Baltimore from tryouts in New Haven and Philadelphia. It had been scheduled to open in New York next week.

Calvert County Watermen Win In Higher Court

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 28 (AP)—Circuit Judge W. Laird Henry, reversing a lower court decision, today acquitted eight Calvert County watermen of tonging oysters in Dorchester County waters without a license.

The watermen had appealed from their conviction by Trial Magistrate Otis McAllister last Nov. 20. McAllister fined them each $25 and costs.

Tidewater Fisheries Inspector Victor Simmons arrested the men while they were tonging in Punch Island Creek near Taylor's Island.

William E. Northam, part-owner of the land adjoining the creek, testified he gave the men permission to tong there. He was unable to obtain any Dorchester watermen to do the job, he said.

State's Atty. C. Burnam Mace and Asst. Atty. Gen. Edward Digges contended that the watermen had violated a State law requiring a license when oysters in privately owned waters are tonged commercially. The law does not require the owner to have a license, however.

Northam said oysters had been taken from the area without a license since 1939 and there had been no complaints.

The watermen were Ames Johnson, James Gatt, Clifton Johnson, Daniel Johnson, Philip Johnson, Archie Gross, Calvin Gough and Milton Witts.

Long And Short

FT. DIX, N. J., Nov. 28 (AP)—This one is real easy:

The Army says the WAC with the shortest name here is Sgt. Rose Re of New York City.

The WAC with the longest name is Pfc. Marvalene Kelehuakauikawekiu Apiki of Napoopoo, Hawaii.

She is better known as "Hey, You."

That 18-letter middle name means "flower of the fire goddess."

Nine Miners Rescued

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 28 (AP)—Nine miners were rescued from an underground copper mine at Taltal in northern Chile after being trapped for more than 30 hours by a landslide set off by an earthquake. A rescue force of 200 miners reached the entombed men last night.

NORMA SHEARER AND "DISCOVERY"—Norma Shearer chats with Robert J. Evans, 28, vice president of a New York sportswear manufacturing concern, whom she "discovered" at a swimming pool party in Hollywood. She was so impressed with his resemblance to her late husband, Irving Thalberg, that she took him to Universal-International studio where he was signed to portray the producer in "The Man of a Thousand Faces," the life story of the late Lon Chaney. Evans had some minor acting experience about 10 years ago. (AP Photofax)

McKeldin Receives Annapolis Citation

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin was among those who received citations tonight for their contributions to "the Colonial appearance and beauty" of Annapolis and Anne Arundel County during 1956.

The governor, principal speaker at the annual meeting of Historic Annapolis, received a citation from the society "for increasing the public's appreciation of Colonical Annapolis" through his book, "Washington Bowed."

The book is an account of George Washington's resignation as commander-in-chief of Revolutionary War forces at the Statehouse in Annapolis.

Satellite Dust Gauge Ordered

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 28 (AP)—How much dust will the first satellite encounter as it whizzes around the earth?

The University of Maryland reported today it had been awarded a $24,150 grant from the National Science Foundation to design and operate a radioactive gauge for measuring the erosion to the skin of a satellite caused by meteoric dust.

Directing the project will be Dr. S. Fred Singer, associate professor of physics who is currently engaged in several research projects relating to exploration of the upper atmosphere.

West Va. Patronage Procedure Outlined

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 28 (AP)—The Republican state chairman said here today that his party was setting up plans for processing applications for the estimated 13,000 State jobs now held by Democrats.

Chairman John D. Hoblitzell Jr. announced that he will send out letters to the 55 GOP county chairmen Dec. 1, outlining the procedure to be followed in selecting job applicants.

Hoblitzell said that applicants will get blanks from the chairmen, fill them in, and return them to the chairmen.

"All patronage will be handled through the committees," he explained.

After the county committees send the approved applications back to state headquarters, they would be screened and filed, Hoblitzell said.

The original cost of the White House was defrayed from the sale of land in Maryland and Virginia.

W.Va. Speaker Contest Looms

CHARLESTON, W.Va., Nov. 28 (AP) — Del. W. E. Flannery (D-Logan) seeking his fifth straight term as speaker of the House of Delegates, may be challenged for the position by Del. J. Hornor Davis II (D-Kanawha).

Davis, 52-year-old Charleston banker and lawyer, will be starting his eighth House term. He was majority floor leader in the 1945, 1947 and 1951 sessions. He is reported trying to round up enough votes to enable him to take over the speakership from Flannery in the legislative session which begins Jan. 9.

Flannery, the only man ever elected to the post four times in a row, has been speaker since 1949.

In the other chamber, Sen. Ralph J. Bean (D-Hardy) is seeking reelection to a third term as Senate president. Sen. Jack A. Nuckols (D-Raleigh), mentioned as a possible opponent, said last night in Beckley:

"I'm not a candidate now, and I don't think I will be."

Missing Cat Found In Automatic Washer

MARDELA, Md., Nov. 28 (AP) — It all came out in the wash.

Mrs. Francis Hopkins noticed her cat was missing while she was doing the wash. The cat couldn't hear her call, because it is deaf.

But she soon heard from him. She pulled out the plug to her automatic washer and dragged out the soggy pet, undamaged—and very clean.

Launched by General Mills in 1955 to assist the schools in homemaking education, there has been a steady increase in participation from 187,000 girls from 8,040 schools the first year, 256,000 girls in 10,222 schools, last to the 300,000 this year.

In Maryland, 3,524 girls in 109 schools will take the examination consisting of multiple choice and objective questions testing the students' attitude and knowledge in the major areas of homemaking.

The girl with the highest test score in each school will be named the "Homemaker of Tomorrow" in her school and will receive an award pin by Trifari. Her test will be entered in competition for $1,500 and $500 scholarships which will be awarded each state Homemaker of Tomorrow and runner-up respectively. The school of each state winner will receive a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

State and District of Columbia winners will receive an all expense-paid educational tour of Washington, colonial Williamsburg and New York, where May 2 at a Waldorf-Astoria banquet announcement of the 1957 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000. This year for the first time girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national finals will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships respectively.

The test, prepared and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago and administered by the schools, will be the basis for awards until the national selections when personal observation and personal interviews will be included.

Each girl taking the test will receive a new aid to self analysis.

Make Her Day Merry With A Mobile Dishwasher From Santa

Hey pop! This story is for you.

Do you feel a vague uneasiness every night, right after dinner and just when you settle down in an easy chair to read the paper?

Do you know why? Your conscience is bothering you.

Even though she never complains, you know your wife out there in the kitchen is dog tired.

Deep down in your heart you know you ought to be out there helping her. That's why you can't really enjoy taking it easy in a soft chair reading the paper.

The obvious answer is an automatic dishwasher.

Now before you can sell your wife on the idea there are important questions to answer. Just how much time will a dishwasher save? Will it get the dishes cleaner and more sanitary than hand washing? Does it step up water consumption?

Big Time Saver

You can tell her that these and a horde of other questions were answered by a study of hand versus automatic electric dishwashing methods known as the Ohio Study, made by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster, Ohio, and sponsored by leading dishwasher manufacturers who are members of the Household Sink Units Section of the National Electrical Manufacturers Assn.

Most dramatic finding of the Ohio Study was that an automatic electric dishwasher cuts dishwashing time by about half —from about an hour and a quarter to an average of 35 minutes a day.

You might add that dishes washed in a dishwasher were found definitely to be more sanitary than those washed by hand, with a much lower bacteria count, indicating an important contribution to family health. This is because recommended water temperatures for household dishwashers are hotter than the hands can stand in the dishpan.

Another finding of the Ohio Study indicated that there is less dish breakage with an automatic electric dishwasher. As far as water consumption is concerned, it was found that about eight gallons a day are used in a dishwasher. This is less than needed to fill a deep sink.

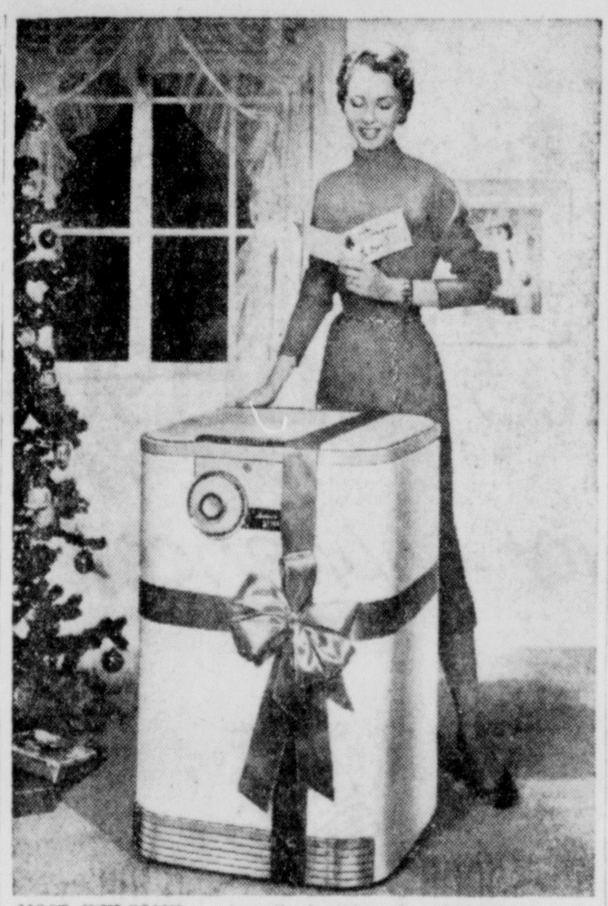
Increased Capacity

As an added point, remind your wife that automatic electric dishwashers have come a long way to reach their present efficiency of action and attractive appearance.

As a clincher, tell your wife that today's dishwashers show increased capacity—many models will hold complete service for eight. Improved drain devices and automatic timers assure longer service and better operation. Modern automatic electric dishwashers take most dirty dishes without pre-rinsing, and with the use of the proper detergent will get dishes and table silver sparkling clean. These machines do pots and pans, too, with a minimum of preparation.

You can show her mdels to suit any need and colors and finishes to match any decor. Enlist the aid of a dealer to help your wife decide whether a combination dishwasher and sink, a built-in under-counter model, or one of the new free-standing types is best for your home.

And after the dishwasher she finally picks out is busily handling the after-dinner chores in your kitchen—and your wife is curled up on the living room sofa —you can read the sports news with an easy conscience.



MOST WELCOME — A gaily beribboned mobile dishwasher under your Christmas tree means a year-round holiday from laborious dishwashing chores. Since it's portable, it saves installation bill and can be rolled around the room like a serving cart to pick up dirty dishes.

Color Treatments Carried Inside Some White Units

Whether or not you like color on the outside of your appliances, it seems possible that some of those you buy may not be white inside.

Some of the makers found costs mounting when they tried to match all the new outside colors inside their products. Last year they tried various ways of meeting the problem.

At least one manufacturer changed interior colors on both white and colored appliances. He thinks he has found a single interior color that goes well with both white and colored exteriors.

The idea has not moved far enough to establish a trend, but in the future there is a good chance the appliances you buy may have color inside whether they are white or colored outside.

Now You Can Do It Yourself

If your husband is not afraid of work—and is handy with tools —you may be able to get that dream kitchen for a lot less money than you'd think.

Today's emphasis on built-ins, stack-ons, and dozens of other short cuts to "tomorrow's kitchen" is made to order for a man with "do-it-yourself" inclinations.

Some dealers have recognized that high costs of professional installation are a drawback to sales and have launched all-out campaigns to encourage home-owners to tackle installation themselves. Much of it can be done by non-professionals — at substantial savings.

But don't try and "do-it-yourself" electrical wiring, gas connections or plumbing. These are jobs for qualified experts. Many localities require that these specialists be licensed. Amateur work may jeopardize your insurance as well as create a fire or safety hazard.

Slightly Smaller Loads Can Mean Cleaner Wash

Reseachers found they got a cleaner wash if they used somewhat smaller loads than the manufacturer's rated capacity in all types of machines.

They recommend that you try to arrange to do one of your own washings in the type of machine you plan to buy.

Family needs vary from home to home and a washer that would do an excellent job for one family may not fill the requirements of another. Be sure the one you select will meet all your needs.

New Gas Ranges Reverse Trend

Years ago kitchen space was measured to provide shelf and cabinet room for a variety of auxiliary cooking appliances. Now the trend is in reverse, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, and the space is being used for food storage or practical placement of china and utensils.

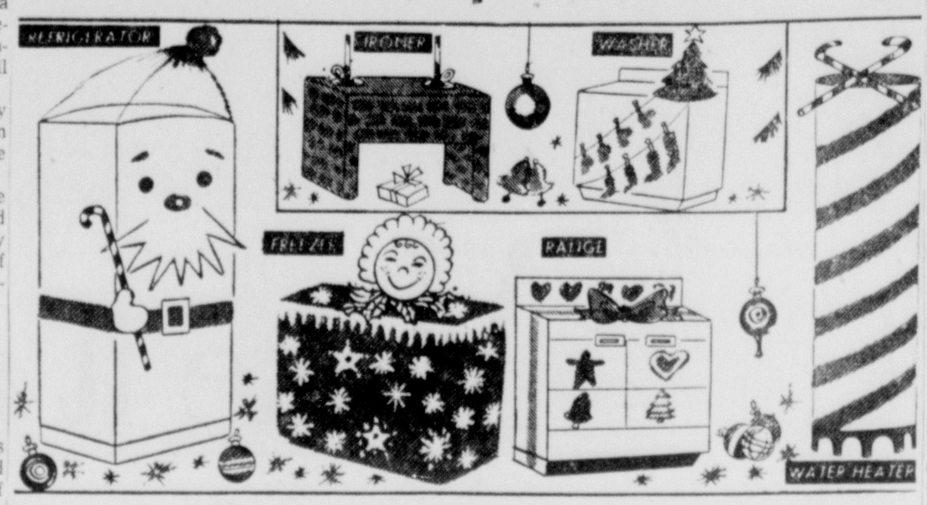
The reason? Manufacturers now are producing gas ranges equipped with special controls, griddles, rotisserie ovens and other features to take care of special cooking functions which formerly required auxiliary appliances.

What Is Natural Gas?

Have you been wondering just what natural gas is?

Formed millions of years ago through the decomposition of matter, it is found in pockets of sponge-like rock far below the earth's surface. It can only be found by drilling successive wells until the gas-bearing strata is located.

Wrap Big Yule Gifts To Add Festive Air, Keep 'Em Guessing



GUESS WHAT?—To add a festive holiday note and to keep them guessing, dress up your appliance gifts in gay wrappings with Yuletide motifs. Here are some suggestions from Dennison's designers which can serve to inspire you to many attractive variations.

For years Father and the youngsters have been baffled about how to present Mother with a White Christmas gift of a major kitchen appliance and wrap it so it would come as a huge surprise.

The problem of how to disguise these gleaming gifts has been solved this season in some imaginative ways by Dennison stylists.

Here are some suggestions that may be just what you're looking for:

The new refrigerator can be turned into a happy Santa by covering the entire appliance with red crepe paper. An easy way to do it is to wind the paper in layers around the refrigerator horizontolly, securing the ends with tape.

How To Do It

Make Santa's belt by folding black crepe paper and placing it around the middle of the appliance, taping it down in back. The buckle is a large square of gold foil taped on the black belt.

Use a real mitten or cut a mitten shape from green paper and tape it to the front, sticking a candy cane in it.

For Santa's face: tape on a table tennis ball or a large tree ball for the nose, use large gummed stars or round notary seals for the eyes, black masking tape or black pipe cleaner for the mouth. Stick on cotton for eyebrows and beard.

To make Santa's cap, cover a large cardboard carton with more red crepe, bringing it to a point at the top. Add a wad of cotton for a pompon, and stick it at a jaunty angle on Santa's head.

Disguise the new ironer as a fireplace. You can do this by covering it completely with brick-patterned crepe paper. Use cellophane tape to hold the paper in place. Mass greens and pine cones on top. Pile the family's presents in the opening. Andrions and other fireplace equipment — if you have it on hand — will add a realistic touch.

For the new washer let the whole family share in the fun of decorating. Cut two tree shapes from green construction paper. Staple together down the center. Fold one side forward, the other back. Tape to one corner of the washer.

Drape two lengths of red cord or tinsel rope across the front, hanging small mitts and Christmas stockings on them. Tuck lollipops into them. The mitts and stockings can be cut from double thickness of colorful crepe, then the sides stitched together.

Trim With Snowflakes

Snowflakes printed on midnight blue crepe make a perfect coverup for that freezer. Get packaged pre-cut crepe icicles and tape them around the top.

For a humorous touch, blow up a yellow balloon — or find last summer's beach ball — and with plastic tape make slant eyes and smiling mouth of an Eskimo boy on it. Tape on cotton for hood. Add a wreath of greens at the neck. Clever?

Trim the new range with large versions of Christmas goodies, such as gingerbread figures, cookies and so forth. Cut them from brown construction paper and tape in place. Tie it all together with a 10-inch band of bright red flameproof crepe. Loop more crepe together for bow on top.

A cylinder-shaped hot-water heater can be made to look like a kingsize candy cane by spiraling Christmas red flameproof crepe streamers around it. Secure streamers here and there with cellophane tape.

Accent On Speed

If it's speed you want, gas range manufacturers now offer high speed giant burners of up to 20,000 BTU's, making them the fastest on the market. If you count the seconds in brewing a morning pot of coffee, in bringing water to a fast boil, for deep fat frying, canning and preserving, then you will find these high speed burners the ideal answer, the American Gas Association points out.

LET'S TURN CHRISTMAS INTO OLD-FASHIONED HOLIDAY

Let's make it an old-fashioned Christmas this year, one with the whole family sharing in the joy of the holiday season.

"Old-fashioned" doesn't mean "out of style." In fact, there has been a marked return in recent years to the traditional type of Christmas in which the family celebrates and worships together.

Whether it's gathering the evergreen tree from a forest or buying it at a store, whether it's planning a quiet but festive observance or entertaining the neighborhood — the family now enjoys doing it together more than ever.

And this tightening of family ties doesn't just occur any more with Christmas Eve and depart before New Year's. The Christmas spirit, more and more, is living the whole year around.

Why?

It's a paradox of our times that automation—an unhomelike word if there ever was one—is putting fresh meaning into family life.

With push-button equipment taking over many of the jobs that used to make the homemaker a drudge, she is freed to make many more personal contributions to the family welfare.

But modern appliances have their greatest appeal in making the kitchen the most lived-in room in the house.

To most home lovers, it's secondary that scientific advances have given them an almost unlimited staff of mechanical servants to do kitchen and laundry work efficiently and quickly with little human effort involved. What really matters to them is how the family is being reunited as perhaps never before.

GLAMORIZE IT—The thoughtful husband will tuck a surprise into the appliance he's giving his wife for Christmas. Roses, perhaps. Or her favorite perfume. It doesn't have to be big or expensive—just very personal and slightly sentimental.

Family Room Is Back

In line with this recognized trend, house planning has brought back the "family room." It's either a part of the kitchen area or next to it, separated only by room dividers or cabinets.

Gone are the cold, clinical-looking kitchens in which the housewife stayed only long enough to get the work done — and practically nobody else ever entered. Now kitchens manned by silent, untiring appliances, are centers of family activity.

In many of the newest smaller homes being built, there are no dining rooms on the blueprints. Instead, big kitchens are dining rooms—and living rooms, too.

Kitchens now include laundry, sewing center, hobby corner, workbench, children's play pen, food bar, breakfast nook — all blended into the decor and appliance layout with harmony and taste.

Again the kitchen is the heart of the home as it used to be in grandma's day, and on back in history. Home is where the hearth is, the modern American family is rediscovering.

So make it an old-fashioned—and new-fashioned — Christmas this year. Let the family have fun in the kitchen sharing the hundreds of happy things to do there.

The family can share, too, in its giving.

The best things come in big packages — modern kitchen appliances that make living happier for everyone.

Investment In Happiness

They may arrive to the sound of sleighbells in the frosty, early morning air as Santa makes his rounds. Or the sound may be a truck's horn, as Santa's helper, your local appliance dealer, makes delivery. But in either case, the gift will make Christmas the gala occasion it should be.

When you unveil your new appliances this Yuletide, remember that they're more than just attractive, efficient work-savers. They're an investment in happiness for you and your whole family.

Plan New Kitchen On Cabinet Sink

Focal unit for modern kitchen planning is the cabinet sink. De luxe models, now within the range of all budgets, include many items of kitchen convenience.

Among them are: pull-out bread cutting board, towel holder, compartmented bread drawer, rinsing spray, and single handled faucet.

Steel kitchen cabinet manufacturers offer this basic unit in easily matched colors.

FEELING LUXURIOUS? Then here's the kitchen for you. It's a French Provincial all-gas kitchen, with steel cabinets, wall oven and plenty of space for gracious, homey living.

Eighty per cent of all of cooking done today is on top of the range.

Install New Ovens At Convenient Height

The main advantage of a separate oven is that you can have it installed at a height that means maximum comfort, safety and convenience to YOU.

How do you find exactly what that height is?

Cornell University's Department of Economics of the Household undertook research to find the answer. They discovered that the convenience of a separate oven depends upon how easily you can lift food in and out, turn broiling meat over, and inspect cooking food.

After studies with 50 women, it was found that most could handle heavy loads such as a ham, a turkey or a large roast with least strain if the oven was at, or slightly below, their elbow height or "carrying level."

The researchers noted, however, that when the oven is placed low enough for comfort in lifting and turning food over, you may not be able to stand erect directly in front of the oven and see all of its contents. The Cornell researchers found two simple ways to avoid bending: either pull out the oven rack with the food on it, or just step back.

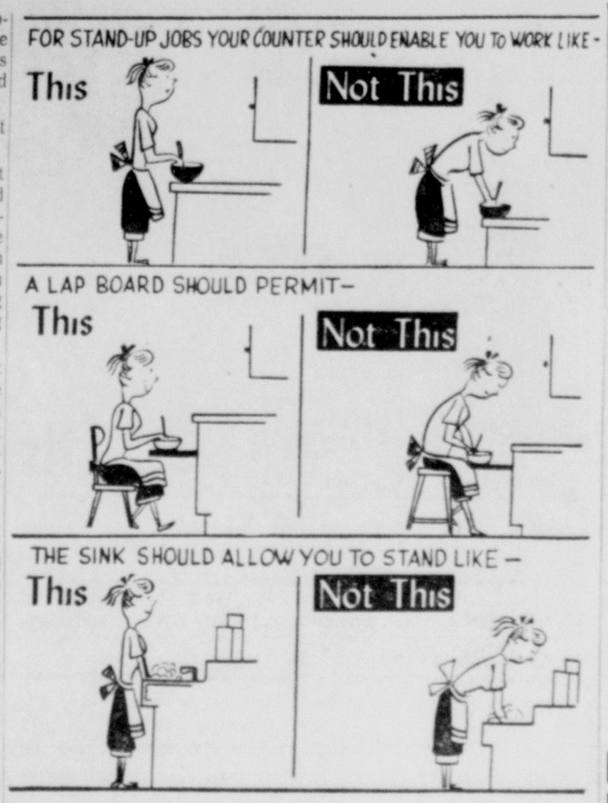
In general, they concluded, it is better to place your oven so that you do not have to lift too high, even though this means that you must adjust your body position for inspecting.

The most popular choice of the 50 women studied was an oven height putting the top surface of the opened oven door three inches below the "elbow height."

If you want your oven installed at this height, here's how to go about it:

Determine your own "elbow height" (which naturally will be lower for a short person than a tall one). Wearing the type of shoes you ordinarily use in the kitchen, stand comfortably erect and bend your arm so that the forearm is parallel to the floor. Now have someone measure the distance in inches between the floor and your elbow.

From this "elbow height," subtract three inches (the distance you want to allow between your forearm and the top of the open oven door.)



Next subtract the distance between the top of the opened oven door and the lower surface of the oven frame. (Because ovens vary, you will have to make this measurement on the unit you are purchasing.)

The height you have left after these two subtractions is the height to which the receiving frame for your own should be built.

Times Have Changed

Today's homemaker spends less than three hours a day preparing meals in an all-gas kitchen. The housewife of yesteryear had to work nine hours a day in a hot, smoky kitchen to cook her family's food.

Boost Resale Value

Although a home improvement project is most likely to be outlined with the family's own needs in mind, it also will affect the property's sale price should some change in plans put it on the market. Modern kitchens and laundries are proven sales makers for builders of new homes, points out the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, and are equally effective in boosting the value of older dwellings.

Work Reduced

A gas dryer's damp-dry action cuts work by eliminating the need for sprinkling clothes before ironing.

Goldfish apparently want to grow muscles. They like spinach.

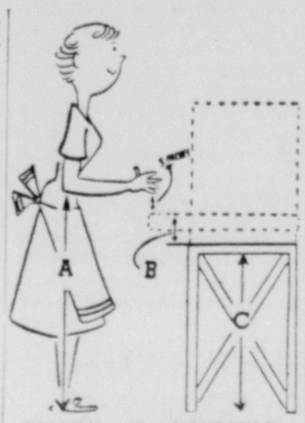


FIGURE IT YOURSELF: Here's how to find your best oven height: Measure A, the number of inches from floor to elbow. Subtract three inches, the distance to allow between forearm and open oven door. Subtract B, the distance between top of the opened oven door and lower surface of oven frame. These two subtractions leave you with C, the height to which the oven's receiving frame should be built.

Dishwasher Trick For Extra Payoff

Users of dishwashers find their machines so efficient that they need to wash dishes only once or twice a day. But they have found that some dirty dishes stored in the washers might give trouble with stuck-cereal.

Then an experienced user came up with a trick to beat the problem. When more dishes are loaded into the washer, turn the machine on for a minute or two without detergent. The dishes rinsed in this way were found to wash well when a load was accumulated and washed.

Easy For Handicapped

Homemakers with physical handicaps are able to use automatic washers effectively and with comparative safety.

Here Is Why Appliances Now Are In Demand

Here are facts and figures which explain why the demand for major appliances in America is climbing higher and higher every year:

Automatic Washers

A survey conducted by a manufacturer's home economics laboratory showed that family wash of five eight-pound loads can be done by an operator of average skill in 27 minutes of the operator's time—5.4 minutes per load. This is only 10 per cent of the energy and 15 per cent of the time required by other home laundry methods. The tests also indicated that home-washed linens and clothing last from 33⅓ per cent to 100 per cent longer than those commercially laundered.

Automatic Dryers

The same survey showed that use of a dryer saves a total of three hours per week formerly spent in hanging, sprinkling and ironing clothes. It also eliminates labor involved in carrying 90 and 120 pounds of clothes to and from the clothesline. Dryer-dried clothes and household linens also last longer than those line-dried, with better retention of fabric color and texture, less loss of tensile strength. With drying time shortened and drying made independent of weather, fewer clothes and linens are required.

Automatic Dishwashers

The research showed that for the average family, about five minutes are required to prepare dishes and load a dishwasher, compared with 35 minutes needed to scrape, rinse, dry and put away dishes when the work is done by hand. Breakage of china and glassware is reduced. Use of dishcloths and dishtowels is almost eliminated.

Home Freezers

The company's studies indicated that food preservation by freezers requires only half as much time as canning. Time and energy are saved by fewer shopping trips. Foods can be cooked and frozen when time is available. With both fresh and cooked frozen foods on hand, meals can be prepared quickly and easily. Money can be saved by buying food in quantities, taking advantage of sales and of low seasonal prices. Food preparation costs and food wastes are reduced by wise use of plan-overs and left-overs.

Today's Cabinets Are Tailored

Thanks to the wide variety of sizes and styles now available in standard and special-purpose steel cabinets, remodeling an old kitchen or planning one for a new home is both simple and fun.

Today's steel kitchen can be tailored perfectly to room size requirements, yet provide the advantage of economy because of mass production.

To get some idea of the variety possible, consider these specialty units:

Snack bars that serve as handy dining and work surfaces.

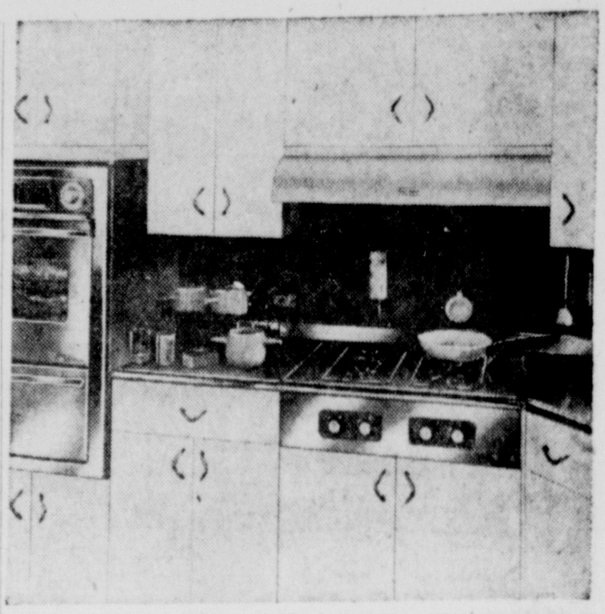
Handsome divider cabinets, with door openings on both sides, which can be used to separate the food-preparation center from a dining or laundry area. These units supply compact storage room for supplies, which can be reached from either area.

Special steel units to house waist-high ovens and provide storage space underneath.

Curved door and rounded steel shelf units which can be fitted at the ends of rows of standard base and wall cabinets to ease walk through passageways and add a clean decorative line to the kitchen.

All of these precision built cabinets help stylize the steel kitchen. Each unit, regardless of its design, blends with all others of the same make. This means that the multi-purpose kitchen, though made up of two or three centers for cooking, laundry, dining or other activities, can be fashioned into one coordinated work saver with a custom-tailored appearance.

Remember when planning for base and wall cabinets that the right height depends upon both the job to be done and your height, posture and arm length.



CABINET RANK—Here is how steel cabinets complement new built-in appliances and can add the "build-in" look without major structural changes in the kitchen itself.

Here's how the Pennsylvania State University College of Agriculture Extension Service recommends that you find your best work heights for various kitchen chores:

Stand-Up Jobs

Stand up at ease with your feet slightly apart and arms down at your sides. Raise your arms from the elbow until the palms of your hands arrive in a position where you could mix food without stooping. Measure the distance from the floor to your hands. This is the best working height for your food preparation or mixing counter.

Sitting Jobs

Sit at ease in a comfortable straight chair with a back support. Place your feet flat on the floor, arms down at your sides. From the elbow raise your arms until parallel with the floor. The distance from the floor to your wrist is the right height for a lapboard.

Proper height of a sink is extremely important. If it is too deep or low, you will have to stoop, lean or slouch to do your work. The proper position is one that will enable you to stand comfortably erect and be able to place the palms of your hands in the bottom of the sink.

The 'Old System'

Early air conditioning "systems" installed by ancient Egyptian pharaohs and Roman nobles consisted of using slaves to bring blocks of ice and snow from mountain ranges to be placed on palace roof-tops.

JUST DIAL IT—There's water as hot as you want it with a simple flick of the dial on your new gas water heater. It's right at home in the kitchen, too, alongside other good-looking home appliances.

What Size Heater?

Here are recommendations from the American Gas Assn. for proper size gas water heaters, based on the number of bedrooms and bathrooms in the home:

For one bathroom and one or two bedrooms—30 gal. tank.
For one bathroom and three or four bedrooms—40 gal. tank.
For two bathrooms and two or three bedrooms—40 gal. tank.
For two bathrooms and four or five bedrooms—50 gal. tank.
For three or four bathrooms and four or five bedrooms—75 gal. tank.
For three or four bathtrooms and four or five bedrooms—75 gal. tank.

A plentiful supply of hot water for all your family needs depends upon the proper sized tank. It should meet future as well as present requirements, since the addition of new appliances, such as an automatic dishwasher or a washing machine, means you will use more hot water each day.

New Gas Heaters Have Fast Recovery

Supposing you've decided the family should give itself a White Christmas gift—a much needed new gas water heater. Do you know what size to buy?

They range in size from 30 to 100 gallons. The size you buy should be determined by two things: The amount of hot water you need and the recovery capacity of the heater.

Recovery capacity means the ability of the heater to replenish hot water as fast as it's used. With a fast-recovery heater you can use a smaller tank. This will save you money on purchase price, installation, maintenance and operating costs. Besides, it will take up less space.

Many 30-gallon gas-fired water heaters will recover their entire capacity in about an hour. They give more hot water per hour than any other kind of automatic heater, says the American Gas Assn., even including heaters twice as large.

Gas water heaters will turn off and on automatically. And there is never any danger their hot water supply will be cut off by power failures or delivery curtailments.

There are many automatic gas tanks that have dial-like controls enabling you to obtain instantly the very high temperatures required for automatic laundering.

Gas heaters are equally at home in the kitchen, concealed in closets or shown counter-top height alongside other modern appliances. Their "new look" colors make a big hit with housewives, too.

But the final factor in selecting the kind of water heater you need is determined by conditions affecting your local water supply. Your local gas utility company is best equipped to advise you on the kind of tank material most suitable for your area.

How To Make Old Gas Range Give Dad A Break

What happens to the old gas range when the home improver provides a shiny new one for the kitchen? The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association recommends a cellar spot for the old one.

It will be ready for coffee breaks for the improver himself when he's at workbench tasks, or for his wife when she's at the laundry or other cellar chores.

The extra cooking capacity fits in when the guest list taxes even the spacious modern gas range.

Even Pop Can

Cabinet-style ironers have lap panels to support dampened articles before they go through the roll and one or two extension shelves for stacking folded items after finishing.

Also on the market is an ironer adaptable for use anywhere in the home. Of console design, this model comes in red mahogany or limed oak and has graceful wrought-iron legs.

Portable models, which can be rolled into storage spots when not in use, and table models also are available. Table models take little storage space, but must be carried and lifted to the table where they are to be used.

TECHNOLOGY DOES IT

Combination refrigerator-freezer models are made possible by technological improvements, including those for insulation, that result in thinner cabinet walls.

Here's What To Do When Power Fails

What happens to a freezer full of precious food when the electric power goes off?

Cornell University specialists say there is little chance of frozen food thawing in the first 48 hours of power interruption, if the freezer is not opened.

They do, however, advise checking the food after 24 hours to make sure it is still frozen hard and has no sign of moisture.

To prevent thawing during prolonged power failure, place dry ice in the center of each compartment.

It's a good idea to cook double or triple portions of your favorite recipes so you can freeze whatever is left over for later meals.

PRACTICAL BEAUTY—The latest appliance styles—built-ins, counter-top units, and steel cabinets —make this kitchen an eye-catching blend of the modern and traditional.

Washday Woe Banished

Back when a bar of yellow laundry soap was the household standard, washday was a dreaded family chore.

Today, the concept of "washday" has practically disappeared as the automatic laundry has replaced the washboard and scores of specialized cleaning products have appeared in place of the old fashioned laundry bar.

Today's housewife can choose from any number of soaps and synthetic detergents in powder, granule, flake and liquid form. But she is often at a loss which to buy for washing dishes, nylon underthings or for use in her washing machine.

The term "detergent" can be confusing. A detergent is simply a cleansing agent which, in water solution, removes soil. So, both soaps and synthetic detergents qualify as "detergents."

However, synthetic detergents have certain advantages over soaps. They launder equally well in hard or soft water and leave no dulling soap scum. Some synthetic detergents produce fewer suds and are somewhat better for front-loading washing machines.

During the past 10 years, synthetic detergents have won quick acceptance and today outsell soaps by an overwhelming majority. Soap powders are still recommended for use in soft water areas. In a washing machine they still do an excellent job on all types of clothing.

Mild soap flakes are especially suited for hand washing fine fabrics like nylon hosiery, lingerie, baby clothes, silk and wool. For best results in hard water, a water conditioner should be added to the basin or washer before the soap.

Floor coverings best for use in the kitchen are linoleum, plastic vinyl and wood if it's treated with penetrating oil sealer.

DREAM KITCHEN—This is a practical reality in the average American home. Electric appliances, finished here in fashionable pink, include a 30-inch electric range with French doors, mixing center, dishwasher and built-in refrigerator. Automatic washer and dryer are along the right wall. Kitchen decor in this case is off-white and gray.

Color Now Brightens Kitchen

By Howard Ketcham
New York Color and Design Engineer

Since the housewife spends more time in the kitchen than anywhere else in the house during the day, it should not only reflect her personality, but it should be a bright and pleasing place in which to work. This can best be achieved by the judicious use of color for the background and for equipment, appliances and accessories.

Today, when the home owner is planning a new kitchen, colored appliances to match or contrast with the walls, cabinets and other fixtures are given the greatest consideration. In some instances, manufacturers are matching the colors of their appliances with the colors of other equipment, although standardization has not yet reached the ideal stage. Much more has to be done to bring about coordinated colors for the kitchen in the appliance industry.

Coordinating Colors

One solution for the housewife with a color-matching problem might be for her to sand the appliance or appliances in question and apply a special enamel coat in the color of her choice. According to the president of a large paint company, his firm has an excellent product, a triple-duty enamel, for this purpose. It can be sprayed on or applied with a brush. Another method of providing coordinated colors in the kitchen was evolved by a leading New York home furnishing store, when they were commissioned to do over many large apartments and homes after World War II.

The firm did over the kitchens with coordinated colors from the appliances right down to the pots and pans. To accomplish this coordinated program in all its perfection and detail, they sent appliances to automobile painting shops to be sprayed with synthetic enamel in the exact colors they wanted to complement the kitchen colors.

It might well be asked what items are most likely to be difficult to get in a matching kitchen. Actually, nothing is hard to get today in matching colors. Paint manufacturers are producing as many as 1400 different colors, so appealing color schemes can easily be selected. Many manufacturers of paints, floor coverings and draperies are offering complete customized kitchen color plans free.

Wide Color Choice

As to the choice of proper color for the kitchen, there is a wide variety of choice today, depending largely on personal preference. Many people, who are not housewives, seem to think that cool colors belong in the kitchen because psychologically they seem right. This does not always work out in practice. Surveys have indicated that women like bright cheerful color in the kitchen, with yellow and turquoise ranking particularly high. The colors should be functional and provide a happy, cheerful atmosphere.

Early Water Heater

One of the first known water heaters in history was used by a wealthy Pompeian 2,000 years ago. It was merely a water tank which circulated cold water through the hollow sides of a container filled with hot coals. Gas wasn't used to heat water until the early 1800's.

Put White Christmas Into Holiday Dinner

The weather man may not be able to provide a White Christmas out-of-doors. But clever homemakers can add the seasonal White Christmas touch to their holiday dinners with crushed ice.

The refrigerator of today, ready and able to supply this ice quickly and abundantly, joins with the range in helping Mom prepare the holiday meal.

"Ice can make an old-fashioned Christmas dinner sparkle with new eye appeal and appetite appeal," says the home economics institute of a leading concern. Their suggestions for use of ice are contained in the following menu they have prepared for the holiday feast:

Frozen Fruit Juice Appetizer
Roast Tom Turkey
Walnut Dressing
Savory Gravy
Orange Candied Sweet Potatoes
New England Browned Potatoes
Broccoli with Parmesan Cheese
Spiced and Stuffed Radishes
Cranberry Salad Stars
Santa's Sundae-Special

The home economists suggest you use your favorite recipes for the turkey, dressing, potatoes, gravy and broccoli. Then use the following recipes for preparing and serving the other items on the menu:

Frozen Fruit Juice Appetizer—Combine equal amounts of unsweetened grapefruit juice, orange juice and pineapple juice. Pour into shallow container and place in freezing unit of refrigerator for one hour, stirring every 20 minutes. Serve in fruit juice glasses from a deep tray filled with frosty crushed ice.

HOME FOR CHRISTMAS — The whole family shares in the Yuletide spirit as it gathers around the table for Christmas dinner. The big moment comes when Grandmother makes her entrance with the turkey, roasted to a turn. Now it's up to Grandpop to rise to the occasion and do his best job of carving

Relishes Recipe

Spiced and Stuffed Relishes—Spiced apples, prunes or pears, watermelon pickles, sweet cucumber pickles and olives speared on toothpicks and tucked into a mound of crushed ice cubes or served on an ice-chilled platter make a different and delightful relish plate. For variety, add prunes or apricots stuffed with cream cheese and pineapple bits, olives stuffed cheese or nuts, and celery stuffed with peanut butter.

Cranberry Salad Stars —Wash two cups cranberries. Add one cup cold water. Cook until tender. Add one cup sugar. Cook for five minutes. Soften in ½-cup cold water one tablespoon unflavored gelatin. Dissolve in hot cranberries. Add ¼ teaspoon salt. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add ½ cup diced celery. Mix thoroughly. Pour into individual star-shaped molds, lightly oiled, and chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold on lettuce cups. Serve on salad plates or dessert dishes set in deep serving dishes of crushed ice.

Santa's Sundae-Special—a perfect dessert for topping off this White Christmas dinner. It's snow-white vanilla ice cream dressed up in red and green, and crowned with confectioners' tiny silver candy pellets. It's served in an icer surrounded by crushed ice cubes so that you can dish it ready for serving at the table before you sit down to dinner. Here's how you make the two sundae sauces:

For the Red Cherry Sauce, strain juice from 8-ounce can of dark red pitted cherries and add water to make ½ cup. Stir in 1½ teaspoons cornstarch and 1½ teaspoons sugar and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cook over low flame 10 minutes, then add cherries.

Mint Same Recipe

For the green Pineapple-Mint Sauce, drain two cups canned sweetened crushed pineapple and set fruit aside. Cook together over medium heat drained pineapple juice, one tablespoon cornstarch, ⅛ teaspoon salt, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Remove from heat. Stir in crushed pineapple and one tablespoon lemon juice. Chill in bowl of ice water, stirring frequently until completely cold. Add a few drops peppermint extract and green food coloring.

Fido Watches Wash

WACHDOG—While his mistress is away shopping, her inquisitive household friend keeps tab on her electric dryer which has just finished work on the wash load by its matching washer (left). Automatic from start to finish, the dryer has four temperatures, guide light control, selective timer to 60 minutes and automatic shutoff when the cabinet door is opened.

Lots of smart housewives who want to stay young find that owning an electric washer-dryer combination is just about as effective as having a weekly facial.

Instead of the back-breaking washday chores they used to suffer through every Blue Monday, they now load in the weekly wash, add detergent, push a button — and go off to shop, to visit or see a movie.

Refreshed from the outing, they return to find clean, dry clothes waiting for them.

The time they used to spend hanging the wash out on the line and then watching to see if it would rain or blow up a duststorm — now all that precious time is theirs to spend on better living. Some homemakers load the washer at night and find the dry clothes ready when they get up in the morning.

The electric washer-dryer combinations wash, rinse and fluff-dry (or damp-dry) in one continuous operation. Some even choose the correct amount of water necessary to wash each load efficiently.

You can get separate washer and dryer units, too, if you prefer.

Even Pop Can Iron

HUSBAND-PROOF—It's Christmas Eve and all through the house not a creature is stirring but this husband, trying out the new ironer he bought for his wife. He just wanted to make sure his gift would be the best. (P.S. When he finished ironing this shirt, he was convinced.)

Many housewives are so bedazzled by the automatic efficiency of the sparkling washer and dryer in their laundryroom they have forgotten that ironing plays a big part in gracious living.

Who can deny that a bed made with freshly ironed sheets has a look of luxury obtained in no other way? How much prouder do you feel when your guest towels have the crispness only ironing can give them?

You may be surprised to know that these symbols of a truly distinguished home can be obtained without a return to the drudgery that once was associated with them. A homemaker who is determined to retain graciousness while protecting her own precious time can find the answer she searches for in an automatic ironer.

With an ironer, she can enjoy smooth linens and towels throughout the house with only a few minutes of extra work. These are flatwork items, which even a beginner can do quickly and perfectly on an ironer.

It is important to remember that flatwork can represent 70 per cent of a load of ironing in the average home.

For those who are willing to acquire a new skill, there is the further reward of being able to give all the family's clothing a professional finish with a minimum of work.

The most popular ironer is the cabinet style, with clean looking white enamel finish. Some have height casters adjustable to the height of the user. It is easy as pie to tilt back the hinged cover and swing out the ironing unit from its storage space.

Home Laundry Moves Upstairs

Is your home laundry where you want it to be?

A majority of laundries today are still in the basement, but the trend is toward the combined kitchen-laundry in new or remodeled homes.

With modern appliances, cooking and laundry can be done at the same time and in the same room while the lady of the house is busy at still other tasks.

The new matched washers and dryers placed side by side give added counter top working space in the kitchen. And the colors can match the other appliances, carrying out your decorating scheme to the letter.

Beauty and Efficiency

Now that water heaters are coming in new shapes and matching colors, the laundry center as part of the kitchen can be a definite addition beauty-wise, as well as for efficiency. It's a good idea to have the water heater close to machines using the hottest water to prevent loss of heat as the water travels.

If you're planning a new kitchen, it's easy to work in your laundry. If you're remodeling an old kitchen, you may have a space problem. The new washer-dryer combinations are a big help for cramped quarters.

It pays to spend time thinking of just where you want your laundry. You can lose the time and energy the machines save you if they're installed without a thought to the convenience of the arrangement.

Keep in mind that the ideal home laundry should be divided into four work centers:

There Are Four

1. Preparation center: Basic equipment here should include a sorting table, mending basket, soaking sink and beaches.

2. Washing center: Be sure this is near a source of plenty of hot water. Wash tubs, washing machine, soaps and detergents, bluing and starch are essential.

3. Drying center: The automatic dry eliminates the need for outdoor and indoor drying space.

4. Ironing center: Plan this area so you can be seated while ironing, to eliminate fatigue. An automatic ironer saves time and

New Ice Server Is Featured In Modern Gas Refrigerator

Ever had the ice cubes give out right in the middle of a party?

You had two choices: Borrow from the neighbors or sit around and wait for some more to freeze. In either case it was troublesome and embarrassing.

But you can bet it will never happen again if you get a gas refrigerator for your White Christmas. This year's model highlights the automatic ice server.

It seems almost by magic that an unlimited supply of ice cubes flows from the futuristic ice server without the bother of ice cube trays. As one cube is removed from the ice basket, another is produced automatically to take its place. And the cubes won't stick together, either, while they're waiting to be used. Instead of the ordinary chunks of ice, these are half discs.

But the ice server is only one of the many advantages of your gas refrigerator.

The freezing section holds up to 1½ bushels of frozen friuts, vegetables, meats, ice cream, and desserts.

Because it's gas, it is the only system in the world that is both continuous and automatic — no noisy stopping and starting. There's nothing to break down since there are no moving parts, and safety features are built right into the unit.

The new gas refrigerators are popular for built-in installation. And you can get them in various shades to fit in with your color scheme.

RAIDERS — There's always plenty of ice in the modern gas refrigerator when the youngsters come looking. With the magic ice server keeping a constant supply on hand, you'll never run out—one of the many pleasures to be had from your new refrigerator.

Replacement Market

In 1955, 70 to 75 per cent of one billion dollars worth of refrigeration sales was in replacement of old units — indicating there is a substantial number of homes in need of new refrigerators.

Here's Space Saver

Completely automatic home laundry service can be provided in about 36 inches of wall space. The new two-in-one washer-and-gas-dryer unit requires only one yard along the wall, reports the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, and does all the work of a separate washer and dryer. The double-duty units are hailed as great savers of time and energy.

Show 'Em Off!

Many a gleaming gift pan or skillet lies hidden in the home. The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association reminds that it's a simple matter to install fasteners which will give these shining beauties their rightful place on the wall. And, with the automatic top burner heat control of a modern gas range, every utensil, regardless of its size or shape, becomes automatic as well as ornamental.

Top-Of-Range Controls Help Make A Cook Into A Champion Chef In Little Time

The automatic thermostat controls which, years ago, turned baking into a dream, are now working similar magic on the top of the range.

The automatic device, operating on the same principle as the familiar oven temperature control, is being used on surface cooking units of both gas and electric ranges. More than 40 different manufacturers now offer automatic surface unit or top burner controls on their ranges.

The beauty of this development is that it eliminates much of the guesswork invoived in the preparation of meals. Instead of following directions like "bring to a boil, reduce heat and continue moderate cooking until done" the housewife with automatic controls simply puts the pan on the stove, twists a dial, and walks out of the kitchen.

How It Works

Here's how it works: A "sensing" element has been added to the standard range top cooking unit. This element protrudes slightly above the center of the unit and is about an inch in diameter. This protruding portion "feels" the temperature of the saucepan, griddle or skillet resting on it. The element relays the temperature of the utensil to an automatic control which keeps the heat at full intensity, lowers it slightly, brings it back up, cuts it off almost completely — automatically does whatever is needed to maintain the temperature the housewife selected with the temperature control dial.

This scientifically accurate temperature control greatly lessens the possibility of burned, dried out or overcooked food, and practically eliminates the possibility of burned or scorched cooking vessels.

One of the side effects of the new control is that it converts any ordinary cooking vessel into an "automatic appliance." Your ordinary coffee percolator, placed on a cooking unit set at "low" will hold coffee at the correct serving temperature for hours. A frying pan becomes a temperature controlled skillet.

Other Advantages

Here are some other advantages:

Pot watching becomes a thing of the past. Once the control dial is set for the needed cooking temperature, you may forget it.

Frozen vegetables, frozen soups and "a la king" dishes are gently thawed, cooked, or reheated.

Fresh vegetables cook with no attention from you.

The low, low temperatures provided are perfect for fussy sauces and those delicate and easily scorched puddings, or for rewarming leftover mashed potatoes or holding them fluffy and light for as long as an hour.

Griddle cakes brown evenly, batch after batch, without the old uncertain fumbling with the dial. The thermostat maintains perfect temperature.

Deep fat frying becomes no worry. The automatic heat control unit provides the heat flexibility and accuracy required. French-fried potatoes or doughnuts turn out a uniform golden brown.

UMMMMMM — With top burned controls on the new gas ranges you're assured perfect results like this every time.

With Gas Range You'll Be Best Cook On Block

Want to be known as the best cook on the block and still spend less time in the kitchen than you used to?

If the answer is "yes," let it be hinted to the man of the house that a new gas range would make a mighty appreciated White Christmas gift.

For it's the gas range that has special features more useful than a couple of extra hands, a mathematical genius and a whole new set of cooking appliances.

There's the foolproof automatic roast control. You don't have to figure out how long to cook the meat or poultry according to weight or degree of "doneness" you want. Just stick a probe into the meat, set the dial on the back of the instrument for "rare" or "well done" or somewhere in between. That's all. Meat done, oven turns off.

Perhaps even helpful in building your reputation as a superior cook is the thermostatic top-burner heat control. It turns every pan you've got into an automatically controlled cooking vessel. Once you turn to the proper dial setting (from 150 to 400 degrees) your top burner will never vary more than two degrees, not matter how long you keep the gas turned on. Now you can make those tricky sauces just right every time.

Broilers are in the front seat this year, too. You can have a broiler with 10 different settings, operated at the touch of a finger. You may select a three-way model that becomes a twin rotisserie or an adjustable high broiler or a deep-pan barbecue broiler.

And don't forget the built-in griddles.

If you have a special decorating plan, too, you needn't worry about a color clash. Gas range manufacturers got together with other appliance makers to coordinate colors. Now, without a qualm, you can match cabinets and sink with the new range.

No Place For Mistakes

An expert's advice in any kitchen improvement is desirable, and especially when a built-in range is considered, states the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Refrigerators Now Offer Many Conveniences

Modern electric refrigerators combine mechanical perfection with convenient, ample storage to give the housewife food preservation beyond her fondest hopes.

There's beauty, too, with attractive styles and colors to harmonize with any decor.

Every year, new features are added or old tried-and-true features rearranged to provide greater health and happiness for the whole family.

New designing has given the refrigerator greater flexibility as kitchen furniture. It can be free-standing, built-in or stacked-on. It can, in short, be placed anywhere.

Many homemakers like their refrigerators set flush in the wall fo a more spacious kitchen. Sectional models or refrigerator and freezer units may be placed side by side at counter level, mounted o top of each other or put beneath a work surface.

A combination refrigerator - freezer can provide adequate space for both refrigeration and frozen foods in the space formerly needed for the refrigerator alone. This is made possible by technological improvements, such as more effective insulation resulting in thinner cabinet walls.

Sizes range from small models for one or two persons to the huge installations for large families or people who live in the suburbs and don't shop too often.

Most manufacturers offer important features like automatic defrosting, choice of color and freezer compartment in the refrigerator. In most of them, too, you can usually find butter-keepers, egg racks, vegetable crisper, roll-out and swing-down baskets and shelves. The freezing unit may be in the bottom, to make more frequently used items easier to reach.

There are all sorts of accessories like cold-water dispensers which operate without opening the door, twin juice fountains and ice-ejector assemblies where the ice tray is inserted in the slot and the cubes drop free into a server bin below.

There are sliding and turning shelves for easy access to foods and door compartments which store large quantities of foods.

NO STOOP—This new electric refrigerator puts the most often used refrigeration compartment at the top within easy reach. The frozen food storage compartment is below. All the modern electric refrigerators are arranged with an eye to greater conveniences for the housewife.

Use Spreading

Business experts predict that within the next 10 years, more than seven million American homes will be equipped with automatic dishwashers.

Save Your Energy

Since studies have shown that it requires 8 per cent more energy to stand than to sit, the wise home maker does as much of her work in a sitting position as is possible.

BUILT IN FACILITIES

Today's steel kitchen cabinets provide built-in facilities such as pull-out shelves and racks.

Cooking Is Fun With The New Features Of Electric Ranges

With the new electric range, cooking can be the most effortless fun you've ever had.

Probably the only work you'll have to do is on Christmas Day—and that will be the task of deciding which of the exciting new range features to try first.

Here are some of them:

Thermostatically controlled surface cooking units. A "sensing" element "feels" the temperature of the utensil resting on it, and heat is raised or lowered automatically to conform to temperature on pre-set dial. Cooks perfectly and makes pot watching a thing of the past.

Elevator oven. It rises 15 inches above the 36-inch-high work surface at the touch of a switch. It may be stopped at any height, lowered or raised from any position at which it is stopped.

Removable Rotisserie

Vertical broiler. Food is broiled on both sides at once. (A conventional broiler is ready for use when desired.)

Smoke-dispelling oven filter. Smoke and fumes are drawn off even when the oven door is open during the cooking process.

Removable oven rotisserie rack. Roast or fowl are locked into place, can be carried to work surface for carving and serving.

Automatic meat thermometer. It turns oven off and signal light on when desired internal temperature of meat is reached.

Other features include: griddles built into the range top; portable griddles for use on any unit, plug-in griddles, swing-out broilers, adjustable broiler pans controlled by a lever which moves from side to side to lower or raise the pan without having to remove it, interval timers to ring a bell when the food is cooked, clocks and timers which turn the fuel off at pre-set times in the oven or on top of the range, ranges with controls mounted on the back panel instead of the range front.

To get the best performance from her electric range the housewife should be sure to have it installed by an expert. The range should be absolutely level.

Keep These In Mind

Manufacturer's instruction book should be kept in a convenient spot and referred to before calling in a repairman. Often problems can be cleared up with a single tip from the direction book.

Utensils are an important factor in the performance of a range. For topstove cooking, use pots and pans that have flat bottoms and tight-fitting covers.

Keep these few things in mind, and you'll know why the National Electrical Manufacturers Association says, "With an electric range, you'll feel like a guest in your own home."

ALL-AUTOMATIC—With a new electric range, you don't have to keep opening the oven door to check temperatures. An automatic electric meat thermometer records temperatures of meat, turns off the oven and turns on signal light when the roast is ready. With this range, homemaker may bake and broil at the same time.

Range Rainbow

Gas ranges now are made with enamel surfaces in black, blue, brown, coppertone, gray, green, pink, red, tan, white and yellow. Metallic finishes come in antique bronze, antique copper, bright chrome, satin chrome and stainless steel.

Surveys by the American Gas Association show that yellow and green are favorite colors. Stainless steel works beautifully with any color.

Taft-Hartley Used To Protect Nation

Acting to protect "the health and safety of the nation," President Eisenhower invoked the powers available to him under the Taft-Hartley Act to end the nation-wide dock strike and facilitate a settlement. It is an indication of how greatly the health and safety were endangered that Mr. Eisenhower acted to promptly despite his aversion to intervention by government in labor disputes.

The tie-up could not be allowed to continue and the President acted decisively to end it in a way that does not abridge the rights of the harassed employers.

Under the law's procedures, a board of inquiry was appointed and requested to report on the issues at dispute. Armed with this report, the President could direct the Attorney General to ask a federal court for an injunction to halt the strike for a period not to exceed 80 days.

If both sides are prepared to negotiate in good faith, that should be ample time in which to settle the issues which divide them. Meanwhile the fact finding board will be delving into the issues. Its report, to be made within 60 days, will help to bring the pressure of public opinion behind a fair settlement.

This is only the third occasion during his incumbency in which Mr. Eisenhower has felt compelled to invoke the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act. The first, three years ago, also involved the dock workers of the East Coast while the second, a year later, involved workers on an Atomic Energy Commission project.

The Taft-Hartley Act is a highly useful instrument in times of emergency, as President Truman also found. He invoked the law no less than 10 times.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Fear Of War

Let us start on the premise that nobody likes war and that nobody wants World War III ever to occur. From that premise, we must logically move to the next one which is that if nations persist in emphasizing their fear of war, will not one nation assume that all others are cowards and take a chance?

There are three reasons why this may be Soviet Russia's best and even last opportunity to make a universal war:

1. It is now clearly evident, as Nikolai Khokhlov, former member of Soviet Intelligence, pointed out on "Meet the Press," that the revolt against Communism is developing not only in the satellite countries but within Soviet Russia. Were it not so, Khrushchev would never have consented to resurrect Molotov.

2. Soviet Russia's conduct in Hungary has not yet separated her allies in Asia and Africa but it has had a frightening influence which was so sharp that it caused Nehru to change his position swiftly — so swiftly, in fact, that Krishna Menon could not catch up with him. Although more emphasis has been put on the Egyptian situation, in history it will be as small as the point of a pin compared with the revolt in the Soviet satellites which can change the course of history.

3. From a Russian standpoint, the Egyptian affair is important for only one factor: It has finally loosened the bonds between the United States, Great Britain and France. That means that NATO is weakened. That means that it will not be too long before the British and the French will ask what good NATO is, what good American bases are.

This is therefore a good time for Soviet Russia to try to bring on a war and Shepilov's conduct in the United Nations is evidence that the Spirit of Geneva is dead. But the Administration in Washington has pledged itself to peace and the Russians can afford to gamble on how far they can push President Eisenhower around.

This is a matter not of politics but of temperament and no one can possibly tell at what point President Eisenhower will take no more guff from the Kremlin.

Khokhlov made this point, in answer to a question as to what the United States can do, on "Meet the Press":

"First, to detach themselves from the fear of the third war, third world war. You see I can only quote some words of Hungarian rebels who told our contact in Hungary, I mean our underground there, and he told the Western Powers are only sissies to tremble so much before the Soviet threats of war. Now that is probably to realize that if you even do not want to go to fight you have to be prepared for that. I will quote you a small thing, that the delegation of Italy proposed to the United Nations to send volunteers to Hungary. Now it wouldn't mean a war. But an American delegation with all their previous firm stand opposed that because they said it could raise the chances of war."

It would seem that the issue in the world at this moment is "peace at any price" versus "liberty at any price." The arbiter has become Soviet Russia which can withhold peace and deprive of liberty. But the rest of the human race surely cannot tolerate a situation which would make men slaves if they wished to remain alive or dead if they wished to be free.

While it is possible to palliate and mitigate and explain away for a time, inevitably men will strive for freedom and upon that rock other empires have cracked. Soviet Russia's gimmick of associating Marxism with imperialism has run its course as Tito so clearly stated in his speech of November 11 which is a complete indictment of Stalinism spoken by a Communist and which had wide circulation in all Communist countries. At any rate, "Pravda" devoted a good part of an issue to denouncing Tito, and Molotov was appointed to an important position to indicate a return to Stalinism.

The situation is adding up to a disaster and the blame will have to be carried by those who have appeased Soviet Russia with improvisations and rationalizations since 1945, with the result that the Kremlin has been encouraged to believe that great chances might be taken and no retaliation need be anticipated. That is always dangerous because it is almost an invitation to the establishment of conditions that lead to war.

'Adlai Didn't Do So Well Tangling With Ike'

White House Will Welcome Moslem Mosque In Yule Peace Pageant

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The White House has been asked to decide whether a Moslem mosque shall be included in the Christmas display behind the White House this year. Several clergymen, among them the President's own Presbyterian pastor, Rev. Edward Elson, have maintained that since December 25 is the birthday of Christ and since the Moslem religion battled against Christianity for centuries, the inclusion of a mosque, if not sacrilegious, certainly is not in keeping with the Christmas ceremony.

The Christmas Pageant of Peace, one of the most beautiful in the nation, has been staged every year on The Ellipse, the park immediately south of the White House. Here are arrayed not only the giant Christmas tree lighted each year by the President, but also live reindeer brought from Santa Claus, N. Y., together with a replica of the stable in Bethlehem.

One of the most important features is a series of pageants in which the embassies of every nation are invited to portray either the Christmas spirit or the spirit of peace.

Clergy Object

Last year when the Pakistani Embassy contributed a mosque there was some objection from local clergy. This year their objections are stronger. Some have even suggested that only Christian countries should participate.

However, Edward Carr, the patriotic ex-president of the Washington Board of Trade who originally put up his own money for the Pageant of Peace, felt that peace must be universal, not confined to one religion. He argued that the spirit of Christmas had come to include world brotherhood and peace on earth, rather than merely the celebration of Christ's birthday.

The Pakistani Embassy also pointed out that "Islam," the word on the miniature mosque which they wanted to exhibit, means "Peace."

At a meeting of embassy representatives, Mr. Chun Prabha-Vivadhana of Thailand got up and said:

"My country is Thailand. She is not Christian. We cannot put up a tree, but we will have our symbol at the Pageant. So there."

Among others Carr consulted Rev. Elson, the President's pastor, who felt that the Christmas display should stress Christian ideology and feature the Nativity. He did not favor non-Christian symbols. But he did not go as far as some ministers who wanted to bar non-Christian countries altogether.

Finally the matter was referred to assistant president Sherman Adams. Adams has had a lot of thorny problems to decide. He didn't shy away from this one.

His decision was in favor of world peace and brotherhood, the broader interpretation of Christmas. Non-Christian countries, he added emphatically, including the Arab nations, should be invited to attend.

No News Spies

American newsmen are considered a pain-in-the-neck at the Defense Department, but at least they're not accused of spying.

Never has censorship on mere routine information been so tight in Washington. However, Lee Hargus, former publisher of the Tucson Daily Citizen and of the Bakersfield Californian now deputy for Pentagon press relations, finally admitted to the Moss Committee on Press Censorship that at least newsmen were not spies.

"Do you know of any instance where an American reporter has been convicted of espionage?" asked John T. Mitchell, counsel for the Moss Committee on Press Censorship.

"No," replied Hargus, "I once made a study of that and have found no such cases."

Teen-Age Voters

It hasn't been advertised, but the Republican National Committee has started a quiet campaign to lower the voting age to 18 in northern states and those bordering the Mason-Dixon Line.

GOP surveys show that the 18-year-olds, who can vote in Kentucky, gave the Republicans their margin of victory in that state. Other surveys show that 18-to-21-year-olds elsewhere lean toward the Republican Party.

As a result, GOP chairman Len Hall has passed the word to key Republicans to campaign for lowering the voting age in northern and border states.

Air Credit Cards

The Civil Aeronautics Board might well take another look at the credit-card regulations of the nation's airlines.

Unlike other businesses, the airlines require applicants for charge accounts to deposit $425 before they can receive air-travel cards. This has snowballed over the years into a highly profitable proposition, for the deposits reach into the millions, amounting to a virtual interest-free loan for the air carriers.

As of last June 30, American Airlines enjoyed the free use of a cool $9,383,150 advanced to it by credit-card holders. Eastern Air Lines could play around with an extra $4,064,740, while TWA and United Air Lines held $3,293,569 and $5,937,250 respectively.

In all, the 13 so-called "trunk" lines had $26,322,962 at their disposal, every penny advanced by credit-card holders who received no interest whatsoever for extending the loan.

The deposit idea was concocted before World War II, when many lines were subsidized and probably needed the extra money. The gimmick received the CAB's sanction and has remained on the books ever since.

Note—The airlines claim they advance bigger chunks of monthly credit to charge-account holders than most other businesses, hence must require deposits from cardholders. However, the system discriminates against the little guy. A corporation can easily afford the $425 deposit; the average citizen sometimes can't.

Democrats May Be On Way Out As National Party

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Is the Democratic Party as a national institution on the way out in America?

Adlai Stevenson a few days ago in an outburst of indignation said to newsmen in South Carolina that "it's about time that a lot of people in the South decided whether they are Democrats or Republicans." He added:

"if they are Republicans they should candidly say so and work for that party. If they are Democrats, then they should return to that party and be a part of it."

The 1956 election shows clearly that there is much to worry about, not only for Mr. Stevenson, but for all the Democratic leaders who are meeting here this week. For something is going on in the South which slowly but surely can make the party of Jefferson into a new entity or break it into splinters.

Without the South the Democrats could not control the committees of Congress or maintain their traditional advantage in starting every Presidential campaign with a substantial number of votes in the electoral college.

But Mr. Stevenson is not alone in demanding a showdown in the Democratic Party. Some of the Northern "liberals" led by Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, who is joined by five other Democratic Senators, now have announced that in January they will seek to have the Senate rules changed so as to prevent filibustering. This is like a declaration of war against the Southern wing of the Democratic Party.

When it is noted that in 14 out of 16 states in the South and border states Stevenson polled fewer votes this time than he did four years ago, it is evident something is stirring which may mean the breakup of the Democratic Party itself.

Only the segregation issue has heretofore caused the South to hold firmly to the Democratic Party. But when President Truman broke with the South in 1948 on civil rights, a start was made toward a new setup, not merely in the states which cast their electoral votes for Eisenhower in 1952, but in other states as well. The upsurge of Republican votes in North and South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia both in 1952 and 1956, while not enough to add to Republican electoral votes, shows clearly that the Democratic Party as a national party is on the downgrade in all parts of the South.

The vote for Eisenhower in the South has been unprecedented both in 1952 and 1956. Nothing like it has happened since the days when the aftermath of the War Between the States nearly 100 years ago made the Republican Party an anathema to the South.

In many a state in the South this year the regular Democratic organization was indifferent to the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket. In one state headquarters they did not even have a picture of Stevenson on the walls during the campaign.

What will these state organizations which still use the Democratic label eventually do? They cannot, of course, give up their machinery for nominating and electing Senators and Representatives formally known as "Democrats" in Congress. Length of service under the seniority system is vital to the Southern Democrats. It keeps them in control of the chairmanships of important committees in both houses.

But state parties can be organized to endorse the regular nominees of the Democratic Party and yet build new organizations for Presidential purposes. The emergence of the independent movement in the South in the last campaign was directly due to a desire to hold a balance of power in the Electoral College in the event of a close election between the two major parties. But it didn't work out that way.

The weakness of the Republican Party in the South, of course, is due entirely to its traditional stand on the so-called civil rights issue. Historically, the Republicans have been on the side of the Negroes whereas the Democrats in the South have consistently favored segregation. Yet from 1932 on, the Democratic Party in the North, for reasons related to economic conditions, has won a vast majority of the Negro districts. Some shifting in these same districts occurred in the 1956 election and, if the Republicans continue their gains in the Negro districts, the Democratic leaders in the North will have to figure out whether the retention of the South isn't more important to them after all, and hence steer a more moderate course on civil rights than the Republicans are steering.

If, on the other hand, under the leadership of Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, the Democrats are going to be more vigorous than even the Republicans on the civil rights question, the Southern states will have to consider seriously measures to detach themselves more and more from the Northern wing of the party.

This could mean the disintegration of the Democratic Party as a national party.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We don't know why the Olympics and our Presidential epidemics are held the same year and the same month. Unless it's to see who can straddle the most fences.

Fellow named Phiedippides started it all in 57 B. C. He ankle-excursioned from Marathon to Athens. They say Phiedippides voted in both places.

He combined Olympics with politics. When he was going downhill he seemed to be winning. But when he got to Athens he dropped dead. That's still a standing invitation.

Our brand of campaigning is Olympian in its competitive switches. One candidate was defeated because he advocated running the Marathon in heats.

We're kissing cousins with Melbourne today because we use the Australian balloting system. That's why kangaroos have their pockets in front where they can watch'e.

We heave more boomerangs in a campaign and we're later than the Phalarope.

And what strong Olympian anvil tosser can throw his weight around like an average precinct leader?

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

Another beautiful brisk sunny morning in Manhattan for a stroll through Centrai Park. Just like walking in the country. Paused at one of the favorite attractions of my childhood. The zoo. Most of the animals were contentedly sunning themselves. The sea lions were showing off as usual. Only the coyote seemed discontented He was pacing up and down and apparently in a nasty mood. Stopping at the zoo reminded me of when I used to take our springer spaniel walking in the park. Dogs are not allowed in the zoo area. That was the source of much regret to me. I always wanted our dog tc see a giraffe. I was interested in what his reaction would be.

NO HATS

The hat business must be taking a terrific beating in New York. Never saw so many hatless men wandering about Manhattan as there are now. Even when it is below freezing the hatless males are numerous. They wear overcoats, gloves and mufflers but no hats. Why not hats? Is it because they think it will prevent baldness or make their hair grow? One theory is that going without a hat in winter makes a man feel virile.

RATIONING

Gasoline ration is on again in Europe. It might be put in force here. Remember those electric carriages of the yesteryear? That is, automobiles run by electricity? Wonder where I could buy one to keep in reserve for gasoline rationing periods. Also why doesn't somebody make electric powered automobiles today? And how about some steam propelled automobiles? Those steamers of the past weren't so bad. In fact, I thought some were pretty good. All right, smart fellow, you tell me what was wrong with them.

LOST AND FOUND

Glancing over the "lost and found" section in the paper, I noticed there were more earrings lost than any other article. Why don't women who feature valuable earrings have their ears pierced and thus be able to stop losing earrings and therefore save their loving husbands some money? There is nothing painful or dangerous about an ear piercing operation.

FASHIONS FOR MEN

"Double breasted jackets made single breasted." Such is a sign noted on a tailor shop on Madison Ave., in the elegant East Eighties. Surely a tailor in that neighborhood should know what's what as to fashions for men. Anyway, I am right on the beam. My last two suits were made single breasted. It was my girl friend's idea. The tailor agreed with her. So I made it unanimous. These turned out to be very nice appearing suits. I think even Fred Astaire may approve of them. I will give a special preview of these suits for my California readers at the Santa Anita Turf Club on December 26 and December 27. You can always find me at the cashier's window section after each race. Well, nearly always.

Where Do Viruses Spend Their Off-Seasons?

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Where does the influenza virus go in the summer and the polio virus in the winter? When an epidemic strikes, how does the first case develop the disease? These questions are of interest to physicians in their fight against infectious disorders.

Dr. Winston H. Price says there is a possibility that in the summer months the flu virus lives in insects, such as mosquitoes or ticks. This theory never has been proved but is not too farfetched. The microbes have not been found in these insects but they may escape detection because of existing in a modified form.

This situation occurs in Rocky mountain spotted fever. The causative rickettsial organism is transmitted to man via the bite of an infected tick, which gets the germ from rodents harboring it. Man is incidental, so far as this malady is concerned. Infected ticks bite susceptible animals, which then contaminate uninfected ticks feeding on them.

The parasites live in the insects in a harmless stage but can be reactivated by placing the ticks in a warm environment or giving them blood to feed on. These experiments show that an infective agent may stay in the insects in a form that is not detectable by ordinary laboratory technics.

Dr. Price states there have been no major epidemics of flu between May and November. In his research, numerous studies were done on the blood and secretions of medical students and nurses at various times of the year. No virus could be isolated from throat secretions during the summer of 1954, even though a flu epidemic started in December of that year.

This convinced the researcher that the causative virus was not roosting in the throat, waiting for cold weather and lowered resistance to take hold. On the other hand, the organism may spend its summer vacation deep in the lungs. Dr. Price isolated the virus from tiny bronchi in three persons whose chests were opened to remove tumors or other noninfectious abnormalities.

This work warrants further investigation because it may help answer the question: Where does the virus hide or rest between epidemics?

EMBOLDENING DRUGS

C. F. writes: Do you know anything about a new drug being used in England to make shy people more aggressive?

REPLY

Mood changing drugs are a dime a dozen both here and in England. Just because they have different trade names does not mean that the equivalent does not exist in this country.

SINUS HEADACHE

W. S. writes: Is sinus headache likely to come on in the morning or later in the day?

REPLY

This type of headache is an early bird. When the frontal sinuses are involved, pain begins commonly around 9 a. m., becomes worse gradually, and wanes toward evening. Maxillary headache often comes later in the forenoon.

NEURITIS

C. T. writes: What causes neuritis of the arm?

REPLY

Pain in an arm may stem from pressure on a nerve as a result of arthritis or the spine enlarged or swollen muscles or blood vessels, tumors, or an extra rib in the neck.

Try And Stop Me!

Near The Strand in London, where newspaper men congregate, a canny pub keeper has introduced a phonograph record with astonishing success. It imitates the sounds of typewriters clicking and presses rolling. Every time one of the noble and dedicated writing toffs calls up the wife to explain that he's detained at the office by war news and such he puts on the record for background music, happily pays the pub six pence for the service, and goes back to his gin and tonic—and a bit of fluff, perchance—with a perfectly clear conscience.

Driver Gets Year In Road Fatality

Woman Files Damage Suit For $100,000

A Piedmont businesswoman whose car figured in an accident that claimed the life of one of the occupants of the other vehicle, yesterday entered suit in Allegany County Circuit Court for $100,000 damages.

Mrs. Mary Brady Wills docketed the suits against Alvin Frank Pearce and Alvin Pearce Jr., of McCoole, and John Edwin Ross, individually, Frances Margaret Ross, and Mr. Ross as the administrator of the estate of his son, William Joseph Ross, who was killed in the wreck.

She seeks $50,000 from each of the families, according to the declarations filed by her attorney, Horace P. Whitworth Jr.

The suit points out that Mrs. Wills was traveling east on Route 495 near Swanton at 2:30 p. m. June 8 when her convertible collided with the auto operated by young Ross.

The petition claims young Ross was driving the car westwardly and at the left of the center of the highway.

As a result of the accident Mrs. Wills said she had to spend 76 days in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser. She suffered fractures of both legs, dislocated right hip, cuts and bruises, fractured pelvis, contusions of the chest and loss of teeth.

She also claimed to have suffered much loss in her food locker and beer distribution business in West Virginia and Maryland.

The suits point out that Ross was driving the car owned by Mr. Pearce at the permission of young Pearce, which is the reason for the suits being filed against both parties.

Young Ross had just graduated the day before from Bruce High School, Westernport.

Widow Leaves Bequest To Irish Teacher

An exchange teacher from Northern Ireland is richer financially, as well as culturally, through his one-year teaching position at Petersburg Grade School.

One of James Neeley's friends in this county, elderly Mrs. Marion H. Judy, widow of Dr. John N. Judy, died in October. When her will was admitted to probate in Grant County Court it was found the Mr. Neeley was one of the main beneficiaries.

According to Elton M. Hiser, clerk of Grant County Circuit Court, Mrs. Judy left Neeley 100 shares of General Motors stock, plus $10,000 in cash.

She also left him half of the residue of her estate after all expenses are settled.

The other main beneficiary was Miss Linda King, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. King, Petersburg. Mrs. Judy's next door neighbor and a student at Petersburg High School.

Miss King was bequeathed Mrs. Judy's brick home and the other half of the residue of her estate.

Mrs. King left her gardener, Glen Kesner, of Petersburg, $1,000 in cash. She also left the same amount to three distant cousins.

Mrs. Judy had no surviving blood relatives, court attaches reported.

Mr. Neeley is from Ballymena in Northern Ireland. He taught for one year in Petersburg as an exchange teacher four years ago. He replaced C. B. Sines, present principal of Petersburg Elementary School, who took Neeley's position in Ireland for a year.

Friends of Mrs. Judy reported that during his stay, Mr. Neeely developed a friendship with the elderly widow, playing cards with her and several others about once a week.

Wiley Ford Home Destroyed By Fire

A new frame house, located on Route 28 three miles south of Wiley Ford, and which was to have been occupied the next day, was gutted by fire Thanksgiving night, Wiley Ford firemen reported yesterday.

The home belonged to William Deitrick and Wiley Ford Volunteer Fire Company chief Brownie Strawderman estimated damage at $5,500. Strawderman said Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company was called in to assist because of windy conditions.

While exact cause has not been determined, Strawderman said an overheated furnace is suspected.

Labor Meeting Set

Eight delegates from Allegany County labor organizations will attend what will probably be the last convention of the Maryland Industrial Union Council before its merger with the state AFL body.

The council, comprised of CIO unions in Maryland, will convene today, Friday and Saturday in the Willard Hotel in Washington.

One of the main topics for discussion will be the forthcoming merger with the Maryland Federation of Labor, which is the central body of AFL unions.

This must be done within the next year in compliance with the national AFL-CIO merger.

The election Saturday will find an interesting race for the only full time job in the council, the secretary-treasurer.

That position was held for many years by Charles A. Della.

Last year, however, James Patterson, from a Baltimore steelworkers union, defeated Della in a close race.

Della will be running again to get back his position.

In the contest for Western Maryland regional vice president will be Joseph V. Burke, a member of Local 26, United Rubber Workers Union, who will also be one of his union's two delegates at the council convention.

It was learned that the present Western Maryland vice president, Ralph C. Beard, has declined to run this year.

Besides Burke, Local 26 has as its other delegate, William G. Rice.

C. D. McIntyre, also a member of the Rubber Workers, will attend as a representative of the Western Maryland Industrial Union Council.

Other delegates are:

Local 265, United Brewery Workers Union, Harold Riggleman and Earl Sills.

Local 676, United Paper Workers Union, Wilbur Johnson and Paul Warnick.

Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, Charles F. Davis and Floyd Grady.

Saturday and Sunday Riggleman and Sills of the Brewery Workers will attend the convention of the Tri-State Council of Brewery Workers Union in Washington.

Other delegates from Local 265 will be Orville G. Young, president, and Walter C. Reighard, secretary-treasurer.

Panama Canal Mark

BALBOA, C. Z., Nov. 28 (AP) — Some time during December the one-billionth ton of cargo since its opening in 1914 will pass through the Panama Canal. A committee named by the canal zone Governor W. E. Potter, is planning an observance of the occasion at the Gatun Locks on the Atlantic side of the isthmus.

Group To Meet Today To Study Local Parking

The second meeting of businessmen and city officials to discuss local off-street parking problems will be held today at 7:30 p. m. in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves.

A proposed ordinance for establishment of a parking authority will be discussed. The ordinance was reviewed at the first session and several suggested changes are being incorporated.

The major problem in the quest for a solution to the city's parking problems—financing—is also slated for further study.

Attending will be members of the Mayor and Council, and the executive committees of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Association.

County Bar Association To Meet Here Today

The Allegany County Bar Association will meet today at 9:30 a. m. in the law library in the Allegany County Court House.

Peter J. Carpenti, president, said that among the items to be discussed are group insurance for lawyers, a photocopy machine for the Court House, and the matter of closing the Court House on Saturdays.

City Is Upheld In Vacation Pay Case

Chief Judge George Henderson yesterday ruled that the City of Cumberland does not have to pay five former city employes vacation allowances for their first year of employment.

Explaining that he could find nothing in the City Charter to indicate that any member of the police and fire departments becomes entitled to vacation pay during his first year of employment, Judge Henderson ruled that vacation pay is due during the second year of employment on the assumption that employment during the second year will be continuous, and not on account of the first year's work.

The suit was brought against the Mayor and Council by three former city policemen and two former city firemen. Each of the men claimed 15 days vacation pay. They are Harold Hipsley and Conley C. Hammond, ex-firemen, and Frank M. Buser Jr., Leo E. P. Law and Walter P. Dennison, ex-policemen.

The former city employes were represented by Attorney Donald W. Mason, while the city was represented by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney.

Judge Henderson's ruling in part, follows:

"It is the duty of this court to decide, in effect, whether a policeman or fireman becomes entitled to 15 days vacation with pay as a result of the first year of his service. The city contends that he is not, and that credit for vacation pay does not begin until he enters upon his second year of service.

"This language (in the City Charter) seems clear and explicit to the effect that there is no requirement that the city allow the police and fire deparments vacation with pay during the first year of service.

"Not until the second year begins does a patrolman or fireman become entitled to a vacation with pay. When he may take his vacation during the second year — and not the first — depends upon the approval of the chief of the proper department and upon seniority.

"It was urged by council for plaintiff that there were certain ordinances which governed this matter of vacation pay. But these ordinances apply only to employes of the 'Classified City Service.'

"It has been decided by this court that an ordinance applying in terms to Classified Service does not apply to the police and fire departments. This question was passed in Algieri vs. Cumberland after argument in a contested case and after a study of existing laws.

"But I see nothing to indicate that any member of the police and fire departments becomes entitled to vacation pay during his first year of employment, or that vacation pay paid during the second year was properly allowable because of the first year employment.

"Even though it is paid prior to the end of the second year, it is paid on account of that second year, not on account of the first year.

"That there have been instances in which an apparently different interpretation has been applied cannot be considered by this court in passing upon these five cases before it. I am governed by the working of the charter, and of any applicable ordinances."

Judge Henderson also stated that his opinion was not intended to indicate that an employe automatically becomes entitled to the full 13 days vacation pay by working only a short period after the end of the first year.

His interpretation of existing laws, Judge Henderson continued, was that the intent was to insure 15 days vacation pay on the assumption that the employment would continue through the second year.

A city ordinance which refers to vacation pay should be rewritten in order to clarify its terms, the jurist commented, nd if intended to apply to the police and fire departments, should expressly state so.

Calico derived its name from the city of Calicut in Madras province, India, where it was first manufactured.

Market Suffers Its Worst Loss In More Than Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP) — A small rally lost its grip and the stock market today took its worst loss in more than a week.

It was a quiet decline with volume just about at average for the year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.40 to $173.70 with the industrials off $2.10, the rails off $1.70 and the utilities off 20 cents.

Based on the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $1,700,000,000 for the steepest decline since Nov. 20.

Of the 1,161 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 652 to 270. There were 121 new lows for the year and 18 new highs.

Volume totaled 2,190,000 shares compared with 2,130,000 yesterday.

There was nothing selective about the decline. Of the 15 most active stocks, 13 were down and only two were ahead.

Most active was Studebaker-Packard, off ⅝ at 7½ on 52,900 shares. Second was Celanese, up ⅜ at 15¾ on 36,200 shares. Third was Royal Dutch, off 4¼ at 89¼ on 28,800 shares.

Next came Curtiss-Wright, off 1¼ at 48 and Vertientes-Camaguey Sugar, off ⅛ at 11⅝.

Among pivotal stocks the losses ran from fractions to 2 or 3 points but there were wider losses, notably shipbuilding issues which have enjoyed recent run-ups.

C&P Telephone Will Improve Md. Facilities

$1,140,000 Marked For Expansion

The board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland, in its regular meeting Monday approved expenditures of $1,140,000 for expanding and improving telephone service in Maryland.

The largest single amount, $290,000, will be spent for additional underground cable to carry an increasing number of calls between exchanges in downtown Baltimore, east Baltimore and Dundalk.

Authorization was given to spend $224,000 for new aerial and underground cables to extend service to new housing developments along York Road in the Towson area, and $38,000 was allocated for new poles and cable to meet the continuing demand for new services along Cub Hill Road in the Boulevard area.

For the Eastern Shore, $129,000 was approved to construct a garage and service center in Salisbury. An allocation of $109,000 will be used to provide new poles, aerial and submarine cable to meet service demands at Still Pond, and an expenditure of $44,000 was approved for new poles and cable to connect additional telephones at Queenstown.

Also on the shore, to meet service demands at Vienna, $54,000 was earmarked to construct a new building for a larger dial telephone system. Authorization was given to spend $19,000 to increase the capacity of the dial switching equipment at Church Hill. The directors also approved $41,000 for new poles and cable to meet the continuing demand for service in Rock Hall.

Appliance Firm To Honor Employes

Some 25 employes, including five salesmen, of the local store of the United Refrigerator Company, will be honored Saturday night during a dinner at Clarysville Inn.

Lewis Yankelevitz, store owner, said the dinner is being held since the November quota of sales was surpassed and Cumberland led all cities of its size the United States.

Newton L. Gold, vice president of the company, is expected to attend the dinner, at which time the salesmen will be presented awards.

The trees growing in Brooklyn and the four other New York City boroughs number about 2,300,000.

Animal Society To Get Report On Cat Incident

The Animal Welfare Society of Allegany County will hold a general meeting at the Cumberland Free Public Library December 10 at 7:30 p. m., according to Dr. William T. Fridinger, president.

A progress report in the current membership drive is to be made, along with plans for continuing the effort, the president said.

Also to be discussed is a report on the action of five local teen-age boys who tied a cat to a city bus several weeks ago.

Dr. Fridinger said a committee from the society met with a local clergyman several nights ago and discussed the situation. The boys, Dr. Fridinger said, have been lectured and their parents have been notified. In each instance, the family has taken necessary disciplinary action, the clergyman told the committee. The group belonged to a club of juveniles which has been disbanded, and an effort is being made with this and other groups in the city to channel their activity into more wholesome interests.

Newspaper publicity which followed the episode, Dr. Fridinger said, served to frighten the boys, and probably did as much good as anything else.

Two Men Are Hurt While At Work

Two local men were admitted to Memorial Hospital Tuesday afternoon after being injured while working.

Hospital attaches said Robert Burt, 26, of RD 1, LaVale, was admitted for head and shoulder injuries sustained when he fell 30 feet while working at Evitts Creek.

Attaches listed his condition as "good." He is employed by the J. R. Nisley Construction Company which is working on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company's project at Evitts Creek.

Also admitted Tuesday was William Moreland, 71, of Seymour Street, who suffered a stroke while working at Bolt and Forge shops of the B&O. Attaches said yesterday he was in "satisfactory" condition.

Sentence Deferred In Morals Case

The sentencing of Earl E. McVicker, 42, of 708 Elm Street, who was tried yesterday morning in Allegany County Circuit Court on a morals charge, has been deferred by Chief Judge George Henderson.

Counsel for McVicker entered a plea of guilty of sodomy. However, sentencing was deferred since the defendant is to enter a local hospital today for treatment.

Counsel for McVicker was Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson, while State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher presented the state's case.

W.Va. Parties Plan Caucuses For December

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 28 (AP)—Party caucuses to organize for the session of the Legislature beginning Jan. 9 will be held here Dec. 15 by the Republicans and Dec. 17 by the Democrats.

The announcements were made late today by the parties' state chairmen, John D. Hoblitzell, Jr., for the GOP and Hulett C. Smith for the Democrats.

Smith said the Democratic majorities of the Senate and House would hold their caucuses at noon Monday, Dec. 17, in their respective legislative chambers at the capitol. Hoblitzell said the caucuses of Republican senators and delegates would be held Dec. 15 in the Kanawha Hotel.

The State Republican Executive Committee will give a dinner for the Republican lawmakers the evening of Dec. 15 at the Kanawha. Gov.-elect Cecil H. Underwood will speak.

The caucuses are held to nominate candidates of each party for Senate President, House Speaker and other legislative posts.

With the Democrats firmly in control of both houses, their nominees will be assured of election, and the actual election on the opening day of the legislative session will be a mere formality.

A contest for the post of speaker is shaping up for the caucus of House Democrats. Del. W. E. Flannery (D-Logan), seeking his fifth straight term as speaker, faces a challenge by veteran Del. J. Hornor Davis II (D-Kanawha).

Mental Health Unit Planned In Mineral Co.

Citizens Meeting Scheduled Friday

KEYSER — A special "Mental Health" meeting will be held in Grace Methodist Church, Friday at 7:30 p. m., to discuss the possibility of organizing a county-wide Mental Health Chapter in Mineral County. This will be a follow-up meeting to the gathering of citizens on October 14, at which time Mrs. Fred Weser, Huntington, showed pictures and explained the deplorable conditions in the five mental institutions in West Virginia, none of which is accredited.

It is the belief that local persons, who know of this situation, could be organized in Mineral County; and that an educational committee could make available films and leaflets for clubs, schools, churches and individuals in the county desiring them.

All interested citizens are urged to be present Friday evening to help in reaching a progressive decision. Organizations are asked to send representatives to the meeting, especially members of health and welfare committees.

Winner In Frostburg "Silver Harvest"

Mrs. Bella Porter, Eckhart, is shown as she pulled the lucky number from the bag of the drawing for the "Silver Harvest," on November 17 which gave her 20 per cent of the $222 jackpot. Standing at the left is Elmer Rupp of the Frostburg Business Men's Association, the sponsors, holding the box with the stubs deposited by visitors to local stores in the last month. Little Charles Pinto, standing back of the box drew the lucky number. Robert Hohing, president of the association holds the bag for Mrs. Porter. The second drawing with a jackpot of $325 will be held Saturday at 3 p.m. in front of the Frostburg Fidelity Bank. The lucky person, who must be present to win, is paid in script, redeemable in any of the cooperating stores.

Don Newcombe Wins First Annual Cy Young Award

Dodger Ace Adds Laurels To MVP Prize

10 Of 16 Votes Cast For Hurler; Maglie Is Second

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP) — Already in possession of the National League's most valuable player prize, Don Newcombe of the Brooklyn Dodgers received another honor today when he was voted the first annual Cy Young Memorial Award as the outstanding pitcher for both major leagues.

Don Newcombe

The 30-year-old righthander received 10 of the 16 votes cast by a special committee of members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America comprised of one scribe from each big league club.

Three other pitchers—Brooklyn's Sal Maglie, Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Ed (Whitey) Ford of the New York Yankees—received recognition. Maglie got four votes and Spahn and Ford received one each.

In voting for Newcombe to receive the award, the writers took into consideration Don's 27 victories over the regular season span rather than his ineffective showing against the Yankees in the World Series. The big fellow, who lost seven games and only two of his last 20 decisions, was the Dodgers' biggest winner since Dazzy Vance captured 28 victories in 1924.

Woodard Resigns As SMU Coach

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 28 (AP) — Palmer E. (Woody) Woodard, who used a three-cent stamp to get one of the nation's choice coaching jobs, today asked Southern Methodist University officials not to renew his contract as football coach when it expires next June 30.

In a letter to Dr. Willis Tate, president of SMU, and Matty Bell, athletic director, Woodard said he felt it "would be to the best future interest of SMU support and harmony if a change is made in the position of head football coach."

The Mustangs have a 4-5 season record this year. They were picked to finish last in the Southwest Conference in a pre-season sportswriters poll.

Alderton, Healy Terps' Captains

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 28 (AP) — Center Gene Alderton and right halfback Jack Healy tonight were named co-captains of the Maryland football team for 1957.

Alderton of Cumberland, Md. and Healy of Brooklyn, N. Y., were elected by their teammates at the annual post-season spaghetti dinner.

The Italian-style dinner was prepared, cooked and served by three Terps who should know their business in that department, guards Nick DeCicco and Paul Tonetti and quarterback Fred Petrella.

Wins Inaugural At Tropical Park

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 28 (AP)—River Divide Farm's Decathlon equalled the world's record for five and a half furlongs today as he won the first division of Tropical Park's Inaugural Handicap, opening feature of Florida's long racing season.

Decathlon, who rocks and rolls while he runs, carried 126 pounds and ran the distance in 1:03 1-5 to equal the record set by Nance's Ace at this track on Dec. 27, 1944, and tied by Bold Bazooka at Hollywood Park in California on July 14, 1955.

With Willie Hartack, the nation's leading rider, in the saddle Decathlon took the lead soon after they broke from the gate and was never headed. He won by four and a half lengths and was eased up at the finish.

Decathlon was the 1 to 3 favorite with the crowd of 14,246 and paid $2.70, $2.60 and $2.30. Elkcam Stable's Apollo was second, paying $9.70 and $5.30, while Mrs. Ben Cohen's War Age was third and returned $2.80.

The second division went to Hasty House Farm's Grandpaw in a photo finish, the Sunny Blue Farm's Supreme Joy second and Buddah Stable's Goldnose third. Time for the second division was 1:05 and Sunningdale, the 2 to 1 favorite, was out of the money.

Gene Alderton Named On All-Atlantic Coast Team

Terp Center Is Graduate Of Fort Hill

Junior Is Among Three Maryland Players Chosen

By KEN ALYTA

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 28 (AP)—Bill Barnes, Wake Forest's thousand yard fullback, heads the 1956 All-Atlantic Coast Conference football team announced tonight by The Associated Press ACC Regional Board which selected him as the No. 1 player in the conference.

Three Terps Named

Seven of the eight member schools are represented on the first team, chosen by the board of seven conference area sports writers and sportscasters in consultation with the coaches. Maryland, with three linemen, leads the schools, with champion Clemson and Duke each placing two men. Only North Carolina State failed to put a man on the top unit.

This distribution of the top talent contrasts sharply with last year when Maryland gained five first team positions and only five schools were represented on it.

The end assignments go to Buddy Bass of Duke and Buddy Frick, of South Carolina. Tackle berths are filled by Sid Deloatch of Duke and Mike Sandusky of Maryland. Jack Davis of Maryland and Jim Jones of North Carolina are the guards and Gene Alderton of Maryland the center.

Joining Barnes in the backfield are Joel Wells and Charlie Bussey of Clemson and Virginia's Jim Bakhtiar.

Marylanders Repeat

Wells, Sandusky and Davis are repeaters from last year. Jones, Alderton and Bakhtiar are juniors, the others are seniors.

The line averages 203 pounds, with 235 - pound Sandusky the heavyweight. The backfield averages 186 despite Bussey's contribution of only 162 pounds.

Maryland's seven-loss season and the fact the Terps won three first team berths may need a word of explanation.

From tackle to tackle Maryland had one of the most rugged, unyielding defenses in the conferences, so much so that the opposition usually went outside for its big gains. Samson-like Sandusky and the spectacular Davis were joined by Alderton, a fine offensive center and crack linebacker, in making the heart of the Maryland defense formidable, despite the team's woeful won and lost record.

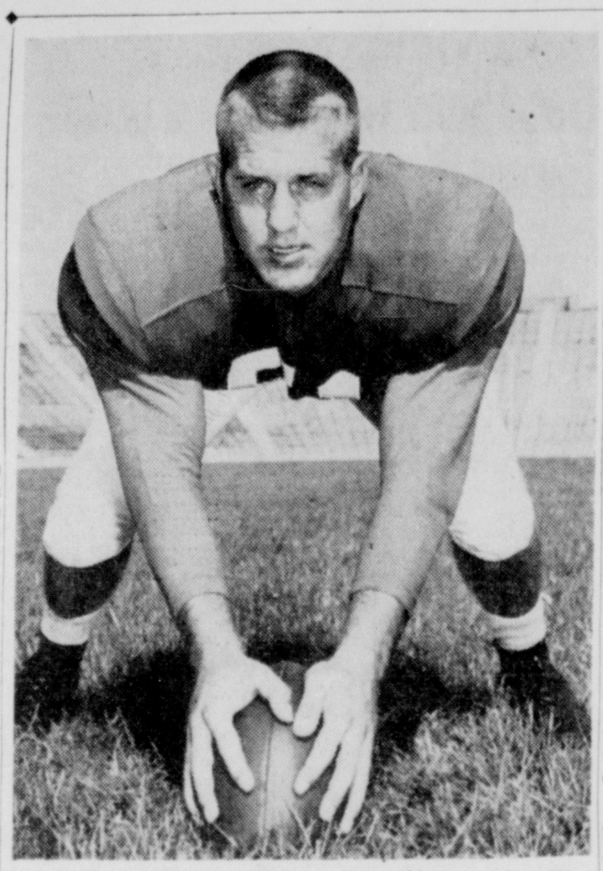
Gained 1,010 Yards

Bill Barnes, the nation's No. 2 ball carrier with 1,010 yards rushing in 10 games, switched from halfback to fullback as Wake Forest Coach Paul Amen moved to exploit fully the running ability of his best ball carrier. Last year Barnes set an ACC record by catching 31 passes as a halfback.

This season he came through week after week as a high powered runner although defenses were aimed specifically at stopping him. It took a shoulder injury to finally stop the 187-pound package of determination in his final game. He played only briefly, but the mere fact that he dressed for battle was a tribute to his gameness.

He didn't spare himself on defense, either, and was an artful decoy when not carrying the ball.

Second team choices included Al Wharton, Maryland tackle.



CUMBERLANDER HONORED — Gene Alderton, 6-foot 200-pound center of the University of Maryland football team is among three Terrapin players to make the 1956 All-Atlantic Coast Conference team announced by The Associated Press ACC Regional Board. The 20-year-old junior is a graduate of Fort Hill High School where he excelled in football under Coach William P. Hahn. This year he inherited the job and capably filled the graduated shoes of All-America and Player of the Year center Bob Pelligrini. Alderton excelled offensively, is an outstanding blocker with a lot of finesse, keen defensive player and one of the finest linebackers in the game. Gene is majoring in Industrial Education.

Clemson Needs Win To Get Bowl Berth

By The Associated Press

Bowl talk kept the Atlantic Coast Conference humming today with the regular season all but wrapped up and tucked away.

Clemson, which holds the inside track to represent the conference in the Orange Bowl Jan. 1 against Colorado of the Big Seven, is the only member of the eight-team league which hasn't finished.

The Tigers meet Furman at Clemson Saturday. A victory would leave them with seven wins, one defeat and two ties, which should be good enough to send them on their way to Miami.

But a loss to Furman would throw a monkey wrench into things. South Carolina (7-3) and Duke (5-4-1) are the considerations after Clemson.

National Football League Selections.

I.N.S. has called 30 of 51 pro football predictions correctly for an average of .588. Following are selections for this week:

By FRED DE LUCA

New York 24, Washington 10—No injuries to hamper Giants this time.

Chicago Bears 27, Detroit 20—Bears ready for Lions.

Cleveland 28, Philadelphia 7—Browns have enough to beat Eagles.

Baltimore 35, San Francisco 14—Colts still kicking up heels.

Chicago Cards 21, Green Bay 20—Cards stay in race by one point.

Los Angeles 20, Pittsburgh 13—Rams can't be as bad as last week.

Archie Moore, Foe Taper Off In Their Drills

Clash On Friday For Heavy Crown

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP) — The talking stage of the world heavyweight title bout between ancient Archie Moore and Floyd (The Kid) Patterson dwindled to nervous tension today as both engaged in tapering-off drills for their Friday night meeting at the Chicago Stadium.

For weeks both have hurled a variety of taunts at each other, the best being that 21-year-old Patterson felt sorry for 40-year-old Moore's advancing years and that Moore pitied his callow foe's vast inexperience.

But now it is only a matter of hours before both must use punches instead of phrases in the showdown for Rocky Marciano's vacated crown which the Rock last defended by knocking out Moore Sept. 21, 1955.

Moore was an early 7 to 5 choice, but there was talk it would be even-money betting by the time he bell sounds for this 15-round match which will be televised nationally (10 p.m., EST-NBC).

Even before Marciano's successor was to be crowned, the line of contenders was beginning to form to the right. The West Coast's phenom, Eddie Machen, unbeaten in 17 starts, showed up for a drill at Moore's midwest gym camp and suggested he, not Hurricane Jackson, should get the first crack at Friday night's winner.

A veteran of 156 pro bouts over a 20-year span, light heavyweight champion Moore must disprove the "they-ain't-ever-the-same" theory some experts apply to victims of Marciano's thunderous fists.

He must also demonstrate that his seemingly sturdy legs, as well oiled as they may be by his "emu bird" lubricant, can stand the fast pace the youthful Patterson is expected to set.

"I've had 11 fights since losing to Marciano," asserted Moore. "I won them all 8 by stopping my opponents, including Yolande Pompey and Jim Parker. That's not shadow boxing."

While Moore has struggled and straggled through the years to Friday night's big chance, Patterson found the same road an easy, short gallop.

Patterson, who could become the youngest heavyweight champion in boxing history, turned pro in 1952 after winning the Olympic middleweight championship. He has had 31 bouts, winning 19 by knockouts, and losing only to the fading, but clever Joey Maxim in 1954.

Patterson's last start was June 8, 1956, when he fractured his right hand in winning a 12-round decision over tireless Hurricane Jackson.

The sponsoring International Boxing Club, originally hoping for a $250,000 gate based on an 18,000 attendance, today still was shooting for that mark, although only $152,000 now is in the till.

Bosley And Powell Repeat On W.Va. Class B Eleven

Choices for the Class B honor squad were announced today by Bill Bibb, sports editor of the Wheeling Intelligencer, who headed the sports writers' selection committee.

The first team is composed of representatives from 11 schools.

Selected in a backfield averaging 172 pounds, were Tom Perdue of Huntington Vinson, Bill Hawley of Masontown, David Shields of Alderson and George Kopsack of Ravenswood. Perdue was chosen as captain.

The line averaging 176 pounds, is composed of Joe Meffe of Monongah, and Tex Williams of Clear Fork at ends, Bosley and Powell at tackles, Gene Chute of Sistersville and Tommy Howell of Winfield at guards, and Tim Mason of Clay-Battelle at center.

Byron (Buster) Brannon, head basketball coach at T.C.U., also doubles as assistant football coach and chief grid scout.

Bears Lead In Offense

Chicago Is Tops Rushing In NFL

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28 (AP) — To the leader belongs the spoils and the Chicago Bears, sporting the best record in the National Football league, stood first today as the top offensive team in the pro loop.

The Bears, though held to their lowest rushing and passing total in last Sunday's 17-17 tie with the New York Giants, have crashed through the opposition defenses for a total 3,605 yards—1,787 on the ground and 1,818 in the air.

NFL statistics showed the Bears lead the rushing department but are third in passing, following the Los Angeles Rams with 1,919 yards and Green Bay with 1,866.

The Chicago Cardinals, only a half game behind the New York Giants in the fight for the Eastern Division title, were second to the Bears in rushing with 1,661 followered by Detroit 1,620, New York 1,542 and Baltimore 1,471.

The Bears, though trailing in total passing yardage, were first in the percentage of passes completed. They have 112 of 192 passes thrown for a 58.3 average followed by Baltimore with 56.7 per cent, Cleveland 54.9 and Washington 52.9.

In scoring the Bears rank first, having compiled a total of 305 points followed by Baltimore with 210 and New York with 208.

Ray Robinson Switches Tactics

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., Nov. 28 (AP)—Ray Robinson switched from defensive to offensive tactics today as he boxed four fast rounds in preparation for his middleweight title defense Dec. 12 against Gene Fullmer in New York.

Showing much of the old Sugar Ray sparkle, Robinson went two rounds each with Gil Turner of Philadelphia and Rinzy Nocero of Brooklyn.

Moseley Wins Coach Honors

Brodie Is Named Player Of Year

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 28 (AP) — Virginia Tech's Frank Moseley, who had to rebuild his team almost on opening day, and William and Mary's Walt Brodie, an end on a winless team, today were voted the Southern Conference's Coach and Player of the Year, respectively.

Moseley finished two votes ahead of George Washington's Eugene (Bo) Sherman, who piloted his team to its best record since 1936, in balloting by the Southern Conference Sportswriters Assn. Other coaches receiving votes were John McKenna of VMI, Art (Pappy) Lewis of West Virginia and Bill Dole of Davidson.

Brodie beat out a teammate, halfback Charlie Sidwell, for the player of the year by a substantial margin. Seven others received votes—Virginia Tech's Jimmy Lugar and Bobby Wolfenden, VMI's Sam Woolwine and Bobby Jordan, Davidson's Don McRee, West Virginia's alarry Krutko and George Washington's Paul Thompson.

Named to the writers' all-star conference team were Brodie and Thompson at end, Bill Underdonk of West Virginia and Dave Liddick of GW at tackle, Gene Lathey and Joe Nicely of West Virginia at guard, Chuck Howley of West Virginia at center, and Lugar, Sidwell, Woolwine and Krutko in the backfield.

Jockey Snyder Said Satisfactory

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28 (AP) — Jockey Joe Snyder, who suffered head injuries when spilled from his horse at Pimlico, was in satisfactory condition today.

Union Memorial Hospital said he probably suffered a concussion but tests were still under way to determine the exact nature of his injury.

The accident happened yesterday during the fourth race. Snyder's horse, Hoiero, went down when he apparently clipped another horse's heels on the soft turf.

Jockey Tony Russo suffered multiple bruises in the same accident when Red Chief stumbled and went to his knees. Ardan Lark tripped over Hoiero and fell but jockey James Nichols was not hurt.

Fullmer Concentrates On Gymnasium Work

GROSSINGER, N. Y., Nov. 28 (AP)—Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, skipped boxing today and concentrated on gymnasium work for his title bout with Ray Robinson at Madison Square Garden Dec. 12.

Fullmer practiced left hooks, with which he thinks he can win the title, shadow boxed, skipped rope and punched the bag for some 15 rounds.

Kerby Farrell Named Manager Of Cleveland Indians

Indianapolis Former Pilot Given Reins

Reported Salary $25,000 For First Try In The Majors

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians will go into the 1957 American League pennant race piloted by Kerby Farrell, the man who guided the Indianapolis Indians to the championship in this year's Little World Series of baseball.

Cleveland Indians' general manager Hank Greenberg, who said he had made up his mind about a new manager two weeks ago, let the public in on the secret tonight. He named Farrell at a press conference, but the announcement came as no surprise.

Was No Surprise

The 43-year-old Farrell was considered the leading prospect and was the most outspoken contender for the Cleveland job.

This will be Farrell's first job managing a major league club.

As usual the Indians did not disclose salary terms, but reports placed Farrell's salary for next year at around $25,000.

Last season Farrell piloted Indianapolis to an American Assn. pennant and his club swept the Little World Series from Rochester in four games. He also managed Indianapolis to a pennant in 1954.

Farrell was the first self-declared candidate for the Tribe field manager post from which Al Lopez resigned when last season ended, Sept. 30. Lopez had held the job for six seasons, and Lou Boudreau for nine seasons before that. Lopez has been hired to manage the Chicago White Sox, who finished third behind New York and Cleveland this year.

Began As 1st Baseman

Bill Veeck hired Farrell into the Cleveland minor league farm system in 1947 as manager of Spartanburg, S. C. and Farrell won a pennant there in his first year. He also piloted Reading, Pa. to an Eastern League flag in 1951.

Farrell's baseball career began as a first baseman for the Canton, Ohio, Terriers of the Mid-Atlantic League in 1938-40. In the following two years he managed the Erie, Pa. team in the Mid - Atlantic League.

During the World War II year of 1943 Farrell was purchased by the Boston Braves who used him at first base and occasionally as a lefthanded relief pitcher. In 1945 he was a first baseman with the Chicago White Sox.

A reporter asked Farrell whether he contemplated making many changes in the Indians.

"I'm not changing anything," Farrell said. "You play with what you have. I just want to have an interesting ball club and win the pennant."

As to whether he planned to bring in any players from the Indianapolis club, Farrell said, "We just know that we had a fine ball club at Indianapolis. We're hoping that three or four can make this team."

NEW CLEVELAND MANAGER—Kerby Farrell (left), who piloted the Indianapolis Indians to the championship last season in baseball's Little World Series, eyes a cake presented at a press conference announcing his appointment as manager of the Cleveland Indians in the American League. With him is a smiling Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Tribe, who made the announcement. It will be Farrell's first job managing a major league club. (AP Photofax)

End Of Frustration

GRAND FORKS, N. D. (AP)—The end of 17 years of frustration came when the University of North Dakota football team beat Iowa State Teachers, 20-19. It was the fourth win for the Sioux in 15 meetings with the Panthers.

Fine Shot

OROFINO, Idaho (AP) — When Phil Ingram of Nezperce took a bead on an "elk" and squeezed the trigger, he took a shot that cost him $100.

That's how much farmer Homer Richardson says Ingram agreed to pay for the horse Richardson says Ingram shot out from under him.

The bullet killed the horse.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Down With Dowager's Hump

So many new fashions show the back of the neck, the lower cut collar lines, boat necks, and draping high in the front and V-shaped in the back on wool dresses, to say nothing of the new low backed cocktail dresses. In these, there's no concealing a dowager's hump, or even the first tell-tale sign of one.

Look at yourself profile in the mirror with a sharp eye for the curve downward from the nape of your neck. Does it tend toward a bulge? Pull your chin in, straighten your back, hold your head high. Setting your head correctly on your shoulders helps at once, but perhaps not enough. If there's a suspicion that a dread dowager's hump has begun, start these exercises at once:

1. Sit with your hands flat on your chest, fingers touching, and with your elbows extended outward. Without moving your hands, pull your elbows backward, very slowly, as if trying to make them touch. Return to original position and repeat 10 times.

2. Sit with your arms outstretched at shoulder level. Fling arms diagonally upward and backward, and at the same time, drop your head on your chest. Return to first position and repeat 15 times.

3. Lie on your back with your knees bent and the soles of your feet on the floor. Spread both arms out at shoulder level, backs down and hands touching the floor. Bend elbows sharply and touch fingers to ears. Return your arms to the extended position very slowly. Repeat 10 times.

4. Stand erect with your hands on your shoulders and your elbows pulled toward your waist. Clench your fists and swing the elbows forward and backward in a vigorous pumping motion.

Tomorrow — More back talk.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28—(INS)—The more I heard about Walter Chiari, Ava Gardner's favorite boyfriend, the more I think he knows just where he is going. He hsa just signed a contract for five pictures with Mark Robson and F. Hugh Herbert, and MGM, and this is not a new thing. Mark says as soon as he saw Chiari in "The Little Hut," in which he played a small part with Ava, he and author Herbert signed him.

They both fly to London and Paris to see the preview of "The Little Hut," then go on to Rome to see Chiari's revue which has just opened there with the idea of building a picture around the revue material.

Mark describes Chiari as "the Maurice Chevalier of 30 years ago," and says he is one of the warmest personalities he has ever seen. Well, if he's anything like the Chevalier of 30 years ago he's plenty good!

Mike Rennie and 20th Century-Fox are parting company after a six year association. "Island In The Sun," which Mike is now making for Darryl Zanuck, is his last picture.

I had thought that Rennie might go back to England where his wife, Maggie, and his son are now living, but he has decided to remain in Hollywood.

He has formed his own company and has optioned "The Borgia Testament," by Nigel Balchin. He also will film "The Life Of Manolete," the story of the famous matador, which he will first do as a TV spectacular. These long term contracts are fewer and fewer at the studios.

When "Blessed Midnight," the DuPont Christmas TV show was made and Maureen O'Sullivan played Sister Mary Benedict, Jim Swift tells me she knew so much more than the technical advisor that the producer came to her for help.

Maureen plays a Dominican nun and she wore the habit of Mother Gabriel of the Monastery of the Angels, her favorite charity.

I asked Maureen how she happened to know so much about the Dominican Order and she said she went to a school in Ireland where she was taught by the Dominican Sisters.

Gaby, of Montreal, Canada, one of the world's foremost photographers, called on me while he was in Hollywood. He had with him photographs of Anthony Eden, Eleanor Roosevelt and many of the church-dignitaries of Canada.

He came here to photograph Conrad Hilton in Hilton's home. He asked Hilton where he'd like to be photographed. "Take your choice," said the hotel magnate, "there are 60 rooms."

The way Gaby works is interesting. You don't know he's taking your picture and all the photographs have a black background. He looks exactly like Frank Sinatra, and he photographed Frank and others for Patsy D'Amore's new Villa Capri.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

It's a boy for Italian star Cesare Danova and his wife at St. John's Hospital. Rossano and Lydia Brazzi, who arrive in town this weekend, will be the godparents.

Paramount Producer Jack Rose is happy only when he's with pretty studio secretary Audrey Hyland.

Cleo Moore and Joey Foreman are getting to be a steady twosome. They were very cozy at dinner at the Oyster House.

Jayne Mansfield is pulling a stunt at the Walter Winchell party at the Mocambo Monday night which could be front page. No, I'm not telling, Mike Connolly.

The Jerry Lewis opening at The Sands in Las Vegas, his first solo act, is costing a pretty penny, but the reservations have poured in and it seems as if the whole town is going down for the opening.

Marietta, Ohio (20,000 inhabitants when everyone's at home), gets the premiere of "Battle Hymn." It's Colonel Dean Hess' birthplace. It also gets Rock Hudson and Martha Hyer.

Isabel (Mrs. Earl) Silden, with Rogers and Cowan publicity office, welcomed a son.

Our Ruth Waterbury, who was the originator of the Golden Apples Award, will be honored at the annual luncheon of the Hollywood Women's Press Club, December 18.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	Pass	1 heart	Pass
2 diamonds	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass
5 diamonds	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of spades.

The lack of delicate touch by North in bidding today's hand has placed his partner in a hazardous contract, but South redeemed North in the play.

It is with North's second bid that we take issue. He considered that he held the equal of an opening bid facing a partner who had opened the bidding, and, therefore, felt that game should be reached. He seems to have overlooked the fact that this refers to nine or 10 trick games. Where a minor suit game is in contemplation, the partnership will require a little more.

In support of diamonds, the North hand is worth 14 points (13 in high cards and one for distribution). Now, if opener has a minimum hand counting only 13 points, there will be no game in diamonds, for such a game requires 28 or 29 points, but there may be a game in no trump, which requires about 26 high card points. In this case, a more restrained raise to only three diamonds would have been sounder strategy, permitting opener to try for a no trump game if his hand is suitable.

The queen of spades was opened, and had declarer fallen into the error of taking this trick, the contract could not have been fulfilled. For, as declarer attempted to establish a long heart, East could not have been prevented from obtaining the lead in time to come thru the king of clubs.

When West's queen of spades was permitted to hold, he continued with the suit and South won with the ace. The ace and a small diamond and a heart discard was taken on the king of spades. Now, the king, ace, and a heart ruff, established a long heart in the dummy upon which the declarer discarded a losing club.

Had hearts not broken so fortunately, declarer would lead a club toward his own hand in hope that East held the ace.

On The Line
by Bob Considine

MELBOURNE, Nov. 27 (INS)—Here are some sideglances at the American Olympic team, now well on its way toward reaffirming our place on top of the world of sports:

The boo is frowned upon by the U.S. team, but not Doris Mae Boo, of Chicago Heights, Ill., secretary of Olympic Association President Tug Wilson. . . Bill Russell, the basketball genius from Oakland, Calif., could have made our high-jumping team if the mood had struck him. Bill jumped six feet nine and three quarter inches in the Fresno relays this year.

Joe Shaw, our 140 pounder fighter, is a St. Louis office boy. . . The fencing team is made up of a naval officer, Bill Andres of Montclair, N. J.; a 49-year-old research director, Norman Cadworth Armitage of Clemson, S. C.; an electrical engineer, Albert Axelrod of Manchester, N. H.; a dentist, Dr. Daniel Bukantz of Forest Hills, N. Y.; a plant manager, Abram Cohen of Brooklyn; a Romanian-born fencing coach of the University of Pennsylvania, Lajos Stephen Csiszar, a salesman, 6-foot-4, heavyweight Rex Dyer of Philadelphia; an internal revenue agent, Byron L. Krieger of Detroit; an advertising salesman, Allan Kwartler of the Bronx; a manufacturer, Nathaniel Lubell of New York City; a physician, Dr. Tibor A. Nyilas of Flushing, New York; an insurance agent, George V. Worth of Flushing; a high school girl, Judy Goodrich of Lapeer, Mich., and two housewives, Maxime Mitchell of Los Angeles, who is just Jack Benny's age — 39 — and Janice-Lee Romary of Tarzana, Calif.

Bob Hughes, one of our breaststroke swimmers, stands 6 feet 6 and one half inches, weighs 225 pounds and displaces just about what the Queen Mary does when he hits the Olympic tub. . . 17-year-old Sylvia Ruuska, one of the youngest Olympic team members, has a kid sister of 14 at home in Berkeley who has been breaking all her records. . . Horace Ashenfelter, who was the surprise winner of the 3,000 steeplechase at Helsinki, is an F.B.I. man. . . Harold V. Connolly, of Boston, who won the hammer throw with a record heave, has an arm that is somewhat shorter than the other. . . Jerry Walters, 1,500 meter man from Los Angeles was born in Itta Bena, Mississippi, and graduated from Pepperdine. Sounds like something out of Walt Disney. He's probation counselor.

Our girl track and fielders have some interesting names: Roxanne (Anderson), Karen (Anderson), Earlene (Brown), Rose (White), Marcia (Cosgrove) and Heriwentha Mae (Faggs.)

Pope Pius XII sent his message to the Olympic athletes in French for it is the official language of the games. The pontiff brought out some telling points:

"We have been pleased to recall the harmony of relations between Christian principles and sporting activities. It now pertains to you, beloved sons, during these games to make manifest in your acts how, without losing any of its technical value, sport, being a school of energy and of self mastery, must be ordained towards the intellectual and moral perfecting of the soul."

The 80-year-old spiritual leader of the world's 400,000,000 Catholics recalled that the Olympics of four years hence will be held in Rome. "A pleasant prospect," his message read. He concluded:

"While defending with ardour the colours of your fatherland, have at heart the service of the cause of God among your brethren. . . May it be for you a new mark of the interest we cherish in a healthy practice of sport, and especially in those peaceful international competition which—amid a world torn by so many divisions — foster, in a spirit of fraternal emulation, mutual knowledge and understanding among peoples."

American friend of ours, noticing swarms of people walking along streets whose stores were bolted tight during the Sabbath, asked his cab driver what they were doing.

"They're sticky-beakers sticky-beaking," he said.

Turned out to be window shoppers.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our relatives, friends, and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and sympathy following the sudden death of our beloved husband and father, Mr. Charles A. Cole. We wish to thank the Rev. Wesley Harris and Rev. George L. Wehler for their comforting words and messages, all who sent cards, floral tributes, donated and offered the use of their cars, and those who in other ways rendered assistance.

Mrs. Charles A. Cole and Family.

Woman Dies As Car Rams Abutment

John Havens, 40, Is 'Critical' At Local Hospital

One person was killed and another was critically injured last night when the car in which they were riding crashed into the abutment of the B&O trestle which spans West Virginia State Route 28 just north of Springfield.

Early today authorities had not identified the body of a woman who was dead on arrival at Memorial Hospital.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy medical examiner, said the initials M.D.H. were found on her coat, and that she was apparently in her late 20s. West Virginia State Police were attempting to identify her.

Dr. Deming said the victim died of intra-cranial hemmorhage caused by a skull fracture.

In critical condition at the same hospital is John Havens, 40, of 2804 Miami Street, Wichita Falls, Texas, who is an employe on a gas drilling project in the Romney, W. Va., area.

Attaches at the hospital said he sustained injuries to his chest, laceration of the face and a possible fracture of the right ankle.

He was admitted for X-rays and observation. West Virginia State Police at Romney said the fatal accident occurred about 7:30 p.m. when the auto, driven by Havens, rammed into the abutment.

Trooper Charles Dorsey said the couple was traveling south toward Romney on Route 28 and the car crashed headon into the abutment.

JAMES W. BISHOP

Bishop To Head February Heart Fund Campaign

County Treasurer Named Chairman

James W. Bishop, 718 Washington Street, county treasurer, will be general chairman of the 1957 Heart Fund campaign for Allegany and Garrett counties.

Ernest B. Treat, president of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association, announced yesterday that Mr. Bishop has consented to serve and help organize the campaign.

The Heart Association health service program in the two counties has been expanding rapidly, and while the 1957 budget has not been completed, it is indicated the quota in the Heart Fund drive will be larger than last year's $12,500, Treat observed.

In accepting the appointment to head the volunteer organization, Mr. Bishop said he has followed the progress being made by the association, has within the past couple of weeks made a close study of the program and activities, and in view of the need here, believes the public will continue its generous support. His first official action was to name a publicity committee representing press and radio, and stated that a full campaign organization will be announced as it is developed.

The campaign is held annually in February as a part of the national and state-wide Heart Fund drive. A highlight of the campaign is Heart Sunday, when every home in the nation is contacted by volunteer solicitors.

Mr. Bishop is long experienced in civic enterprises. In addition to his position as county treasurer, he is a public accountant and tax consultant. He is secretary of the Louis Stein, Inc. and also secretary of the Cumberland Stockyards, Inc.

He is a past president of Central YMCA and a member of that organization's board of directors. He also served as secretary of the board. He is a past president of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, a former member of the board of directors of the Cumberland Community Chest, and during the 1955 Red Feather drive, he was chairman of the Advance Gifts Committee. He has worked on Chest campaigns and in YMCA programs for the past 20 years. He has also participated in a number of Red Cross campaigns.

Mr. Bishop is married and is a son of William E. Bishop, clerk in Trial Magistrates Court here.

United Fund Possibilities Are Studied

Kopp Is Named Temporary Head

Initial steps to inaugurate a United Fund organization in Cumberland which would replace the current Community Chest were taken last night during a meeting of community leaders at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, president of the Community Chest, which called the meeting was named temporary chairman and will select a committee to study the United Fund setup.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Cody Pfanstiehl, public relation director of the United Giver Fund of Washington, D. C.

Cites Advantages

He pointed out the advantages of a United Fund over the present Community Chest. Mr. Pfanstiehl said it would include a lower campaign cost, increase the efficiency of social agencies which would be freed from money-raising duties, and more money would be raised for all participating agencies.

He said some 900 cities throughout the nation have adopted the plan during the past six years and almost invariably the UF revitalizes leadership for the town.

The speaker also cited recently successful first United Fund drives in Washington, D. C., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Kopp, who presided at the meeting said a general feeling has developed toward a UF in past years and that it took focus this year.

One Giving

Residents, he said, are beginning to realize the importance of one giving for charitable purposes. The 40 civic leaders, including business, labor and professions went on record, according to Dr. Kopp, to form a committee to study and investigate problems of such a program.

After the complete study is made, a report will be given to community leaders about the first of February, when the findings and recommendations will be outlined.

Dr. Kopp pointed out that each community has its own specific problems and they will be studied by the committee.

Those in attendance showed enthusiasm for adopting the United Fund plan of raising necessary funds.

Discuss United Fund

Cody Pfanstiehl (left), director of public relations for the United Givers Fund in the National Capital Area, confers with local charity drive leaders who met last night to explore the possibilities of setting up a United Fund for the Cumberland area. With him are Dr. Lillian C. Compton, who headed the Women's Division of the Community Chest Campaign, Dr. Charles L. Kopp, Chest president, and Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, member of the board of the Heart Association.

Sportsmen Ask Hunting Rights Near Parkway

Approve Most Of State Program

Sportsmen of this area want hunting rights retained on land which will be left idle under present plans for the C&O Canal Parkway, Allegany County legislators were told last night.

Officials of the Western Maryland Wildlife Federation told Senator Charles M. See and the Allegany County Delegation some 10,000 acres of land valuable to sportsmen will lie between the historic canal and the mountain slope route which has been adopted by federal authorities.

They said they would like hunting rights retained, subject to reasonable limits on distance in the interest of safety.

The legislators asked the Federation to confer with U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall and Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde concerning the plan.

Will Not Insist

In response to a query from the legislators, Herbert Knepp, president, said the Federation would not insist on the plan if it were to jeopardize the future of the parkway.

Reporting generally for the 14 wildlife clubs in Allegany County, Federation officials backed or were neutral on all but three of the 17 laws advocated by the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Opposed was a plan to provide for a bow hunter's license at $2, a proposal to provide for a $2 big game stamp to be purchased by deer hunters and a plan to amend the present law to authorize the Commission to establish doe deer seasons of one day in such counties as is deemed advisable.

Oppose Only Three

Officials said they generally went along with the other legislation proposed by the Commission which will liberalize hunting and fishing rules in Maryland.

Certain of the legislative proposals, they said, do not pertain to Western Maryland and were not acted on by clubs of the county.

Strong support was urged on a proposal to require positive identification of an applicant at the time hunting and fishing licenses are purchased.

The state, officials said, lose a great deal of revenue under present rules, especially in areas which border on other states.

Pointing to the need for additional revenue, the Federation went along with a commission plan to boost resident fishing licenses 75 cents to $2.25, and to boost the cost of special West Virginia, District of Columbia and Virginia non-resident licenses to fish in the Potomac River from $1.75 to $3.

Federation officials were urged to present a full report on its program to the legislators and to keep in close contact during sessions of the Assembly so area legislators will know the stand taken by sportsmen of this area.

7-Man Group To Probe Md. Stream Setup

BALTIMORE, Nov. 28 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today named a seven-man commission to find out why Maryland's clean stream program is not working and to determine whether state aid is needed to push sewage disposal and other anti-pollution projects.

Del. Joseph Tydings (D-Harford), named chairman, scheduled the first meeting of the group for Friday at 2 p.m. in Baltimore.

Tydings was co-sponsor of the 1956 General Assembly resolution which called on the governor to appoint such a group.

The group's main job, Tydings said, will be to find ways and means of helping communities on Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries to finance and construct sanitary facilities required by the State Department of Health.

Tydings said "We expect to have some concrete recommendations in time for the opening of the Legislature (in January)."

The resolution upon which the governor acted in naming the commission noted that many smaller tidewater communities are confronted with a two-fold problem:

1. They are under orders from the health department to build pollution-preventing sewage disposal systems.

2. However, their outstanding bonds are so high that they may find it impossible to borrow the funds necessary to build waste disposal systems.

Other members of the commission are: Norman Wingert, University of Maryland pollution specialist; John E. Clark, of Harford County, former chairman of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission; Dr. Robert M. Brown, of the State Department of Health; Col. Ernest McClendon, executive secretary of the city of Salisbury; William Corkran, Easton city engineer; and Howard G. Henry, of North East, a member of the Upper Chesapeake Bay Watershed Association.

Drag Strip Meeting Is Set For Today

The Board of Advisors and Trustees of Drag Strip will meet today at 8 p. m. at the American Legion Home.

Reports from the National Hot Rod Association will be discussed. All interested adults are invited to attend the meeting.

Beginning at 4:30 p. m. the 31st degree will be exemplified, followed by dinner at 6:30 p. m. Then at 7:45 the 32d degree will be conferred.

There are 26 members in the fall class.

Magistrate Sought For McCoole

Full-Fledged Official Asked

A request for the appointment of a trial magistrate to serve the McCoole area was presented last night to Senator Charles M. See and the Allegany County Delegation.

Appearing to make the request were Thomas Nash, committing magistrate for District 31, and Donald McCoole.

Mr. Nash said there has been a misunderstanding about the request.

The Town of McCoole, he said, has not asked for a "full-time magistrate but a full-fledged magistrate.

Some time ago a petition, signed by some 80 members of the area, was presented to the Allegany County Delegation in support of the appointment of a magistrate.

The nearest magistrates who can try cases, the legislators were told, are at Westernport and Cresaptown, and people feel it should be possible for decisions on cases to be made in McCoole.

Mr. Nash reported Election District 31 had 178 registered Democrats and 218 Republicans in the recent election, and that an estimated 100 eligible to vote have not registered.

Sen. See put a touch of humor into the hearing by asking Mr. Nash if a full-time magistrate could issue summons for failure to register.

The legislators promised to take the request under advisement and to discuss it when the General Assembly opens its 90-day session in January.

Workman Is Injured At Westernport

A pipefitter who was working on the Westernport filter plant was injured yesterday afternoon when he fell into a 12-foot pit and landed on his back.

Admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va., was Robert Martin, Morgantown. His physician listed his condition as "satisfactory," but declined to give the extent of his injuries.

Railroaders Will Receive Service Pins

The Western Maryland Railway will award 75 service emblems to veteran employes at ceremonies planned today and tomorrow in Hagerstown, Cumberland and Baltimore.

Included are two 50-year award winners, 18 40-year and 12 25-year winners in the Hagerstown area; seven 40-year and 16 25-year recipients in Cumberland and six 40-year and 15 25-year winners in Baltimore.

W. Arthur Grotz, president, will stage the presentations and receptions today from noon until 1:30 p.m. in Hagerstown and then come here for the presentation ceremonies slated from 3:30 to 5 p.m. from the company's business cars spotted at the Western Maryland station.

Ceremonies Set

After the ceremony here, Mr. Grotz will return to Hagerstown and return to Baltimore tomorrow for ceremonies for veteran workers of that area.

Forty-year emblems will be awarded here this afternoon to the following area employes:

J. H. Mulligan, conductor, Cumberland; J. G. McCrossin, conductor, Bowest; N. H. Barmoy, agent-operator, Meyersdale; H. W. Malcolm, assistant general agent, Chiefton; I. L. Hostettler, roundhouse formena, Maryland Junction, B. M. Clise, foreman, Cumberland, and E. C. Kimble, section foreman, Bowden.

To Get Awards

Quarter-century awards will be presented to the following workers of the Cumberland area:
